Ask Deanna!

A advice column known for its fearless approach to reality based subjects!

Dear Deanna!
I was in a 5-month relationship that ended when my boyfriend cheated. I'm willing to take time to work things out but he doesn't feel the same. I'm over the cheating issue. I wrote him a letter saying I'll always love him, but I won't wait forever. He got mad and now we don't communicate. I've made my feelings clear and he has done the same but he hasn't made an effort to help fix the relationship. Should I leave him and get on with my life?
--Nicole; Toledo, Ohio

Dear Deanna!
I'm single playing the field but I have a girlfriend. She's confident and allows me to see other women. Now she's giving me an ultimatum because there's another woman I'm falling in love with. I feel I can be in love with two women at the same time. She disagrees and wants me all to herself. --Richard; Memphis, Tenn.

Dear Richard:
You're stuck on stupid. Any woman that gets involved with you and your circus isn't confident, they're foolish. Love is a committed effort of respect, consideration and dignity. Loving two people at the same time is possible if they want to be loved half way because you can't fully love two people. You need to settle yourself down and accept the ultimatum. If you can't do this, be honest with her and step away because she deserves better.

this time as a learning experience and move on with your life.

Dear Deanna!
I want to know why you respond to Godly questions and put them next to those hopeless sinners in your column? I'm a Christian and wouldn't be bothered with the secular stuff. --Lillie; Dallas, Texas

Dear Lillie:
Don't you pay enough attention to the Bible to know that a thief was on the cross right beside Jesus? Sinners and Saints both have issues, problems, pain and loss of hope. God loves everybody whether they're in the church or on the street corner. He restores hope as quoted in Psalm 103 Verse 2-4 that says He redeems my life from the pit and crowns me with love and compassion. He also says, I will give back your health and heal your wounds in Jeremiah 30:17. Get off that holier than thou trip and get back to God's business of love and saving souls.

St. John's Safeway Opens

Diverse workforce to expand

Friends and neighbors of the St. Johns community are invited to celebrate the grand opening of a new Safeway at 8330 N. Ivanhoe St. on Wednesday, June 23. Several special guests will cut the ribbon and officially open the new store beginning at 8 a.m.

The St. Johns Safeway is looking to benefit the community and expand on a diverse workforce by creating 100 new jobs and employing more than 160 people. Duane Tanner, the store's assistant store manager, said the new Safeway features more space for both products and services.

For the opening celebration, free Oregon scratch-it lottery tickets will be given to the first 600 shoppers (over the age of 18).

For the opening celebration, free Oregon scratch-it lottery tickets will be given to the first 600 shoppers (over the age of 18). The new St. Johns Safeway Food and Drug store will also hold several instant-win drawing for 1,000 plus randomly selected Safeway shoppers who use their Safeway Club Card during the first five days of business, June 23 to June 27 from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. One grand prize of free groceries for a year, a $5,200 value, will also be given.

Some of the biggest perks that the new store offers include: a Starbucks Coffee stand, a cozy seating area, an upscale deli, a hot and cold soup cart, a salad bar, a full service sushi, Chinese cuisine, a "from scratch" bakery, a full line of fresh seafood, an upscale service meat department with a butcher on hand, and an expanded fruit and vegetable produce area.
