WILLIAMS SISTERS TO OLYMPICS

(AP)—Serena and Venus Williams, Martina Navratilova, Jennifer Capriati and Andy Roddick head the U.S. Olympic tennis teams announced Saturday. Navratilova this week became the oldest woman since 1922 to win a singles match at Wimbledon, where she's also entered in women's doubles and mixed doubles. She'll make her Olympic debut at 47 and will play doubles. The Williams sisters won the women's doubles at the 2000 Sydney Games, and Venus won the singles gold. They'll play singles and doubles at the Aug. 13-29 Athens Olympics. Capriati and Chanda Rubin will play singles, while Navratilova and Lisa Raymond will be the other doubles team.

Blazer Pick Compared to Nate Archibald

(AP)—Portland Trail Blazers coach Maurice Cheeks has his own idea of who Sebastian Telfair plays like. "You might think I am a little crazy, but in terms of the way he passes the ball, he passes like a Nate Archibald," Cheeks said. "Now Nate Archibald was a scorer, but a scorer and a passer." The Trail Blazers made Telfair, the 19-year-old New York City phenomenon, their top pick in last week's NBA draft. Introduced by the team Monday with fellow picks Viktor Khryapa, Sergei Monia and Ha Seung-Jin, Telfair said he's ready to live out his NBA dream. "I'm used to the traveling all over the world and playing basketball, and I'll be pretty comfortable in Portland," Telfair said. A 6-footer who learned basketball on the playgrounds of Brooklyn, Telfair counts rapper Jay-Z among his friends and celebrated draft night with a private party in a posh Manhattan club. He said he has gotten plenty of advice from current and former NBA players, including New Yorkers Stephon Marbury, Kenny Anderson, Mark Jackson — and Archibald, a guard from the 1970s who was named one of the 50 greatest players in NBA history.
