

Food Bank Features Artists

A diverse array of local artists, from graffiti artists to sculptors and photographers, will showcase their work during a fundraising event for the Oregon Food Bank at its headquarters at 7900 N.E. 33rd Drive.

The free event will take place at the Oregon Food Bank Learning Garden on Thursday, Sept. 30 from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m.

The event also features fresh gazpacho and herbal tea, prepared by local chefs.

Back in the Game

Milwaukee Brewers superstar Stan Ross (Bernie Mac) confronts fans who just caught his 3,000th hit and ticket into the Baseball Hall of Fame.

Comedy hits theaters Friday

Bernie Mac's "Mr. 3000" hits theaters Friday, Sept.

10. This uproarious baseball comedy stars Mac with Angela Bassett, Brian White, Paul Sorvino, Chris North and Michael Rispoli and is directed by Charles Stone

III.

The picture is the story of an over-the-hill ballplayer who discovers there's more to the game than his stats, with the devotion of an old flame.

Whoopi Goldberg

Back to Broadway

(AP)—Whoopi Goldberg is returning to Broadway in the show that jump-started her career 20 years ago.

Goldberg's self-titled show opens Nov. 17 at the Lyceum Theatre, the same house where her one-woman show premiered in October 1984, it was announced Tuesday. The original show ran for 156 performances.

Since then, the actress-comedian has appeared on Broadway in the revivals of "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" and "Ma Rainey's Black Bottom."

She won a supporting actress Oscar in 1991 for "Ghost." Her movies also include "The Color Purple" and the "Sister Act" films.

Preview performances begin Nov. 6. Goldberg will try out her show in Philadelphia, playing a week's engagement at the Merriam Theatre starting Oct. 13.
