2005 Volvo S40 T5

Tested Vehicle Information: Price: $28,170; Engine: 2.5 liter; Transmission: 6 speed manual

Volvo S40 has vibrant styling and stimulating driving characteristics. The body style is smooth with round corners on the front end of the vehicle. The body shape looks unmistakably like other Volvo sedans but the package is smaller. Although it is a compact size vehicle it offers a spacious cabin room with an airy feeling.

The Volvo outfits the S40 with two different treatments of an in-line 5-cylinder power train. The S40 2.4i has a 2.4 liter with 168-hp with a 5-speed manual or automatic transmission with Geartronic shift mode. The S40 T5 gets a 2.5 liter low-pressure turbo five-pack with 218-hp and an optional 6-speed manual or 5-speed Geartronic automatic. The T5 also has the optional of all-wheel-drive (AWD) system. The base price starts at $23,560 ranging to $28,170.

Legroom is sufficient from the back to the front seating with whiplash protection for all passengers. The center console has a narrow layout with several trim options, faced in shiny metal. A clean uncluttered layout orients the driver toward the analog instruments.

Volvo has always stood out in safety and the S40 is no exception. Each product in the Volvo line has been design for all ages to provide exceptional safety features to protect the passengers. The front bumper and hood area has been build to absorb collision energy. This helps lower the risk for head injuries. The side air bags are larger to help provide more protection for the hips and chest areas. The Volvo S40 is one of the top vehicle picks for safety and style.
