Horn Player to Perform in Memorial Concert

French horn player Stephen Slater will perform in the Sixth Annual Sister Mary Faustina Memorial Concert on Tuesday, June 7 at 7:30 p.m. in St. Anne's Chapel at Marylhurst University.

The program will include works by Beethoven, Alec Wilder, Daniel Schnyder and a theater-inspired piece by Arthur Kampela—a composer often referred to as a Brazilian Frank Zappa. Marylhurst piano faculty member Cary Lewis will accompany.

Stephen Slater is Teaching Artist with the ensemble Tales & Scales in Evansville,

Indiana where he helps to ignite the imaginations of children and families with a combination of music, story, theater and dance, which he describes as "music-telling."

Slater formerly served as second horn of the Boulder Philharmonic Orchestra, founding member of the award-winning quintet Tonic Brass and soloist with the Aurora Symphony Orchestra.

This event is free and open to the public. For more information, email music@marylhurst.edu or call 503-699-6263.

Norful's busy schedule of appearances recently included the renowned New Orleans Jazz & Heritage Festival and The 2005 Trumpet Awards.

Gospel Artist Smokie Norful is captured live in his first concert DVD.

Prisoners Win Religion Lawsuit

(AP) — The Supreme Court on Tuesday upheld the constitutionality of a federal law requiring state prisons to accommodate inmate religions.

Justices unanimously sided with Ohio inmates who had claimed they were denied access to religious literature, ceremonial items and time to worship.

Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg said the 2000 law, which was intended to protect the rights of prisoners, is not an unconstitutional government promotion of religion.

"It confers no privileged status on any particular religious sect, and singles out no bona fide faith for disadvantageous treatment," Ginsburg wrote.

The law requires states that receive federal money to accommodate prisoners' religious beliefs unless wardens can show that the accommodation would be disruptive.

Opponents of the law had argued that inmate requests for particular diets, special haircuts or religious symbols could make it harder to manage prisons.

Justices left open the door for a future challenge, on grounds that the law as applied overburdens prisons.

Oregon University System

Request For Proposals (RFP) Opening To Construction Contractors Serving The State Of Oregon

Responses Due Wednesday, June 8, 2005 by 5:00 p.m.

The Oregon University System (OUS), on behalf of its seven universities, is seeking proposals from individuals and firms working as Construction Contractors interested in entering into an existing Retainer Agreement program, which OUS institutions may use to acquire construction services pertaining to renovation, repair, and/or improvement projects. The Retainer Agreement program includes construction services in a number of areas including, but not limited to, the following: carpentry, masonry, painting, electrical, plumbing, HVAC, roofing, paving/concrete, fire protection, and other trades generally associated with minor construction and renovation. A number of firms will be selected and invited to enter into Retainer Agreements from which OUS institutions may select a firm for construction services contracts pertaining to projects where direct construction costs will not exceed the maximum allowed under OAR 580-0032. It is expected that all firms responding are thoroughly conversant with, and will perform work in conformance with, all applicable federal and state statutory, regulatory and other legal requirements. The RFP is available online on our website: <http://capcon.ous.edu>. You may request a copy via e-mail to patricia\_stewart@ous.edu or by calling Patricia Stewart at (541) 346-5784. Responses received after 5:00 pm on June 8, 2005 will not be considered. Any questions regarding this RFP should be directed to Patricia Stewart, Capital Construction Services, at (541) 346-5784.

OUS may reject any response not in compliance with all prescribed public bidding procedures and requirements, and may cancel this solicitation or reject any or all responses upon the finding of OUS that it is in the public interest to do so. OUS is an AA/EEO employer and encourages the submittal of response from women, minority-owned, and emerging small business enterprises.
