

Gallery Features African Mask Exhibit

A funeral mask made of wood and horn from the Gouru tribe on the Ivory Coast.

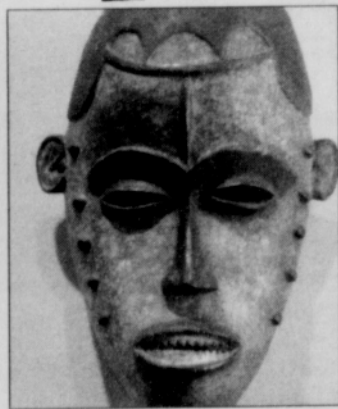

A female mask made of wood from the Fang tribe in Cameroon.

On
NE ALBERTA ST
Street

A trial mask made of wood, cloth, feathers and hair from Makonde Tanzania/Mozambique.

A male mask made of wood from the Fang tribe in Cameroon.

Tribe of the Winds celebrates two years

Celebrating its second anniversary, Tribe of the Winds Gallery, 2217 N.E. Alberta St., presents "A Different Face: Masks of Africa," an exhibit now showing through Oct. 23.

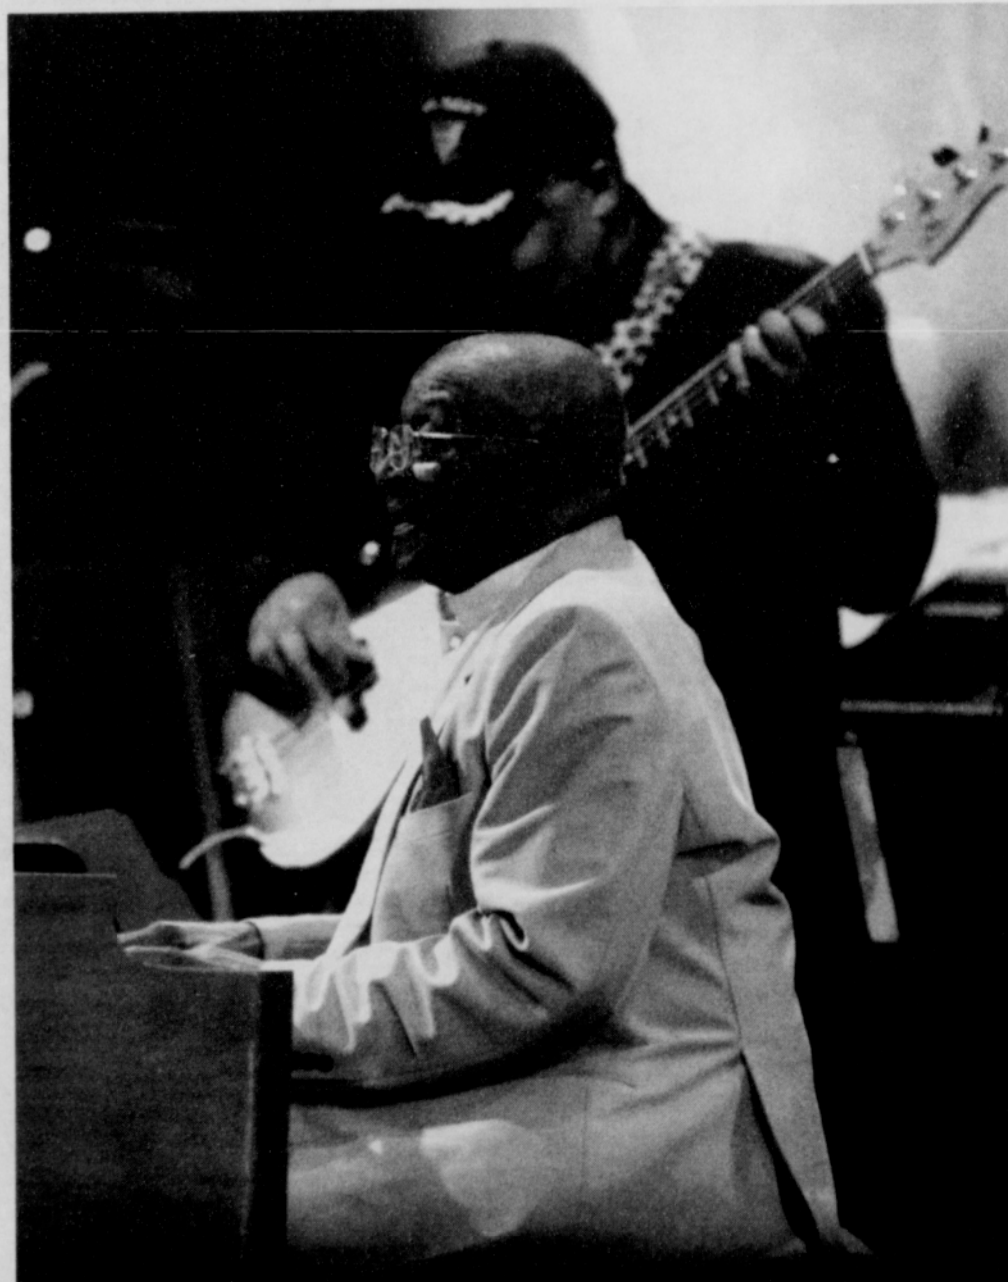

The works are brought to Portland by Achille Massoma of Amandla Deco Gallery in Berkeley, Calif.

Massoma works with over 40 artists in 12 African nations to maintain the traditional art of mask-making as he works to bring cultures closer together.

Through the mask, diverse African cultures express their view of ceremony and passage of spirit and bodies through the ethereal world. From initiation rights to funeral events, the mask helps transcend the stages of life with an element of anonymity.

Tribe of the Winds Gallery specializes in immigrant art and fair trade goods. For more information, visit www.tribewinds.com.

MOTOWN: The Early Years

Classic performances and rare never-before-seen performance footage of Motown groups performing all their big hits.

Saturday, September 10 at 8pm & 10:30pm
Sunday, September 11 at 3:30pm

OPB TV
opb.org

