

Rosa Parks' Will in Family Dispute

Relatives fight over rights to name, image

(AP)—Relatives of Rosa Parks and the people she appointed to handle her affairs have failed to reach an agreement in a dispute over her estate.

A trial is likely in the legal challenge to the civil rights icon's will, said Frederick Toca Jr., a lawyer representing Parks' 13 nieces and nephews.

Parks died in October at 92. The modest possessions that Parks left are not the real issue. Far more significant is control over the legal rights to her name, image and other intellectual property.

Lawyers for both sides were unable to reach an agreement Thursday with a mediator, who then decided to step down from that role, Toca said.

Both sides had agreed that retired 36th District Judge Adam Shakoor should mediate, an unusual decision since he was one of two people Parks had appointed to handle her affairs. The other was Elaine Steele, a longtime friend of Parks.

Shakoor also gave up co-representative of Parks' estate, Toca said. Telephone messages seeking comment were left at Shakoor's law office and at the Detroit office of Steele's attorney, Gerald Fitzgerald Jr.

The nieces and nephews—all sons and daughters of Parks' brother Sylvester—say the will should be voided because Steele exerted undue influence over Parks.

Steele's lawyers have said the issue is whether Parks' wish that her legacy be continued through her organization will be honored.

The main beneficiary of the will is the Rosa & Raymond Parks Institute for Self Development, a Detroit-based group founded by Parks to teach young people leadership and character development. Steele is the institute's vice president.

Recently vacated Kenton Elementary in north Portland will become the future home of De La Salle North Catholic High School.

Kenton School Leased to De La Salle

De La Salle North Catholic High School will upgrade to a larger facility, just a few blocks east of its current intersection near North Lombard Street, taking over the location of now-closed Kenton Elementary, 7528 N. Fenwick Ave.

Facing a budget crisis, the Portland Public School Board closed Kenton last year, leaving an empty shell and a questionable future. But last week, the private school agreed to a 20-year lease with the district, and beginning early next year will expand their enrollment from 220 to 300 at the 23-classroom Kenton site. De La Salle also plans to construct a gymnasium and chapel on the site.

Equal Opportunity Forum

Community input is wanted on a new Equal Employment Opportunity plan for Clark County. A public forum will address the issue at 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, July 12 in the 6th floor hearing room of the county's Public Service Center, 1300 Franklin St., Vancouver.

The purpose of the EEO plan is to ensure full and equal participation of all qualified individuals in the county's workforce regardless of race, color, religion, creed, sex, marital status, national origin, disability, age, veteran status, on-the-job injury, or sexual orientation.

The plan includes information on how EEO policies will be implemented, action-oriented goals, and steps to encourage women and minorities to apply for jobs with the county. Written comments on the EEO plan must be received no later than 5 p.m. on July 19.
