At a night meeting (clockwise from left), Bernard Lee, Andrew Young, Robert Green, King, Lawrence Guyot, Harry Bowie and Stokely Carmichael struggle to maintain unity on the Meredith March.

In the end we will not remember the words of our enemies, but the silence of our friends.

A weary King waits with Andrew Young for a flight out of Mississippi.

Day of Service at WSU Vancouver

In the spirit of the national campaign to celebrate Martin Luther King Jr. Day with service, the students, staff, faculty and members of the 4-H Teen Works club at Washington State University Vancouver will join with the Vancouver NAACP Monday, Jan. 15 to clean up along Highway 500 and Northeast 112th Avenue.

On Tuesday, Jan. 16 at noon, WSU Vancouver presents, "Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.: the man, the mission, the dream," a selection of King's recorded speeches, outdoor next to the Student Services building.

Later at 6:30 p.m., the public is invited to a Martin Luther King Jr. celebration reception with Wayne Branch, in the Student Services building, room 129. Branch will give a keynote speech at 7:30 p.m. in Student Services room 110.

WSU Vancouver is located at 14204 N.E. Salmon Creek Ave., east of the 134th Street exit from either I-5 or I-205.

"It's amazing to think that one man accomplished so much with a dream. Martin Luther King's example has made me a better man and inspired me to work hard to pursue my dreams and help others achieve theirs."

A pioneer in education for civil rights, Septima Clark (right) teaches literacy and citizenship to an aspiring voter in Wilcox County, Ala.

On April 3, determined to overcome a court injunction and restore nonviolent discipline for a renewed march, King and James Lawson (in clerical collar) follow Abamathy into room 306 at the Lorraine Motel. King will be assassinated on this balcony the next day.
