

Help for Financial Aid Seekers

Resources open on 'College Goal' Saturday

Filling out federal financial aid forms can be a daunting task, but there's help available at the upcoming College Goal Oregon Day, Saturday, Jan. 20, from 9 a.m. to 2 p.m. at several Portland Community College locations.

Oregon will have its first coordinated statewide effort to help students and families complete the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA), the required application for most need-based federal, state and campus-based financial aid. Any student wanting to fill out the forms will get one-on-one assistance in filling out the form, regardless of where they plan to go to college.

This year's sites will be PCC Cascade, 705 N. Killingsworth St.; Rock Creek 17705 N.W. Springville Rd.; and Sylvania 12000 S.W. 49th Ave. campuses, plus the Southeast Center at 2305 S.E. 82nd Ave.

Rocio Ceja-Roman (right) gets help with her financial aid paperwork from Clark Hochstetler, a retired Portland Community College employee.

A team of trained PCC volunteers, including financial aid professionals, will provide assistance and support in person. Help will include filling out the worksheet, submitting the FAFSA online, and receiving confirmation that the final paperwork has been processed.

Students should bring their parents if possible, fill out the FAFSA online ahead of time at fafsa.ed.gov, and provide social security numbers, birth dates, financial aid pin number, statement of income for 2006 and current value of assets.

Full- and part-time students will also be automatically considered for an Oregon Opportunity Grant through the Oregon Student Assistance Commission.

Advisors will also provide scholarship workshops throughout the day to help students find money for school. Spanish language advisors will be available at Rock Creek, Cascade and Sylvania campuses.

Local Activist Leads Legislative Office

Ward advances agenda for Shields

Rep. Chip Shields has appointed northeast Portland activist Rev. Renee Ward as his chief of staff for the 2007 Legislature.

Ward will oversee the daily activities of Shield's office in Salem. She will also assist Shields, a Democrat representing north and northeast Portland, in his new position as chair of the Public Safety Subcommittee of Ways & Means.

Ward is a long-time resident of Portland as well as an ordained minister and founding pastor of Zion Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

Rev. Renee Ward

She has served as a member of the Crisis Response Team for the Northeast Precinct of the Portland Police Bureau and has been an advocate for health education and prevention concerning both HIV/AIDS and breast cancer in the African American community. She has also assisted young people in their transitions from Oregon Youth Authority institutions back into the community.

"I'm delighted to have Renee head up my office," Shields said. "Her extensive years of community service and expertise in north and northeast Portland will help ensure our neighborhoods are well served and well represented."
