

BLACK HISTORY MONTH

History Exposed in "The Black Panthers" Collection

Photos and essays commemorate the group's 40th anniversary

In the midst of the largely non-violent Civil Rights movement sweeping through America, Huey P. Newton and Bobby Seale founded the legendary Black Panther Party in 1966 in Oakland, Calif. The release of "The Black Panthers" (Aperture, Oct. 2006), a new book of photographs by Stephen Shames and essays by party co-founders Seale and Charles E. Jones, coincides with the Panther's 40th Anniversary. The Black Panthers, revered by some and vilified by others, burst onto the scene with a revolutionary agenda for social change and the empowerment of African Americans. Its methods were highly controversial and polarizing, so much so that in 1969, FBI leader J. Edgar Hoover described the organization as the country's greatest threat to internal security.

The history of one of the most socially important organizations of the 1960's is chronicled in a new book titled "The Black Panthers."

During the height of the movement, from 1967 to 1973, photographer Stephen Shames had unprecedented access to the organization and captured not only its public face – street demonstrations, protests and militant posturing – but also unscripted behind the scenes moments, from private meetings held in the Party headquarters, to Bobby Seale at work on his mayoral campaign in Oakland.

"The Black Panthers" brings together a remarkable collection of images from Shames' archive. This illuminating volume reveals how Shames' insider status enabled him to create an uncommonly nuanced portrait of this dynamic social movement, during one of the most tumultuous periods in U.S. history.

U.S. Stamp Honors Ella Fitzgerald

Jazz legend broke many barriers

From the 1970 infamous commercials that the late Jazz singer Ella Fitzgerald asked of the world "Is it live or is it Memorex?" in which she performed a high note to break a wine glass, Fitzgerald, known as the "First Lady of Song" gets signed, sealed and delivered as the 30th honoree in the U.S. Postal service Black Heritage Stamp series.

Since 1940, the United States Postal Service has honored the legacy of Black History. From Booker T. Washington, to Whitney Moore Young, an A to Z list of African American lives have been celebrated in the form of a United States postal stamp.

The 39-cent U.S. Postal portrait stamp illustrates a 1956 photograph of Ella Fitzgerald. Because honorees have to be deceased for at least ten years, with the exception of U.S. Presidents, 2007 commemorates ten-plus years of Ella "The First Lady of Song" Fitzgerald's passing.

A U.S. postal stamp commemorating the late Ella Fitzgerald.

World renowned for her vocal ability to combine the art of scat and singing in astonishing vocal ranges, Fitzgerald perfected her chic by creating characteristic vocal syllable sounds that echoed the rhythms of instruments. The legendary jazz trumpeter Dizzy Gillespie, often requested that Fitzgerald accompany him.

"Listening to Dizzy made me want to try something with my voice that would be like a horn," Fitzgerald said. "He'd shout, 'go ahead and blow' and I would improvise." Her recordings of songs like "Lady Be Good" and "How High the Moon" consolidated Fitzgerald's reputation as a jazz singer. "How High the Moon" became one of her signature tunes.

Fitzgerald, who sang at the inaugural for president John F. Kennedy in 1961, had already broken many color barriers years before. One example was that she was one of the first black artist to appear in various exclusive clubs around the United States, including the famed Copacabana in New York, in June 1957.

Saluting Black History Month

"All labor that uplifts humanity has dignity and importance and should be undertaken with painstaking excellence."

— Martin Luther King Jr.

5949 Northeast Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard
3120 Northeast Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard

'Red River' Brings History to Life

"Red River," (Warner Books Hardcover; $24.99) a new novel by Lalita Tademy, weaves together history and the story of Tademy's own family in an intertwining story of two families struggling to survive and thrive in an America deeply divided after the Civil War.

From slavery to freedom, to Reconstruction – after centuries of terror, blacks in America were told they would get their rights. What they got was draft riots and lynchings. Much has been written about this period of the late nineteenth century, but little is known about an event that claimed the lives of nearly every black man in a small Louisiana town: the Colfax Massacre of 1873.

Tademy brings this tragedy to life in "Red River," a detailed and horrifying exploration of betrayal and renewal and of the massacre and its devastating impact on her father's people.

Tademy is also the author of acclaimed New York Times bestseller "Cane River," a riveting family saga chronicling four generations in Louisiana.

INVESTING IN YOU

HAKIM JONES
FINANCIAL ADVISOR
FINANCIAL PLANNING ASSOCIATE

Investing has as much to do with the quality of the relationship with your advisor as it does with the quality of your portfolio. As a Financial Advisor for Smith Barney, I take great care in working closely with you, learning your objectives and helping you achieve your goals. Call me to learn more about stocks, bonds, lending and a host of financial planning services.

805 SW Broadway
Portland, OR 97205

(503) 221-7600 or (800) 547-1526

www.fa.smithbarney.com/hakimjones

© 2006 Citigroup Global Markets Inc. Member SIPC. Smith Barney is a division and service mark of Citigroup Global Markets Inc. and its affiliates and is used and registered throughout the world. CITIGROUP and the Umbrella Device are trademarks and service marks of Citigroup Inc. or its affiliates and are used and registered throughout the world.

NEW SEASONS

MARKET

Pharmacy
AT ARBOR LODGE

Meet your Pharmacist, Melinda Butler.

Yes! We are a regular pharmacy!

- ✓ We fill prescriptions – including antibiotics, high blood pressure medications, anti-depressants, birth control, and more.
- ✓ We have knowledgeable, friendly pharmacists who have the time to share information.
- ✓ Our prices are competitive. We accept most insurance plans and are adding others as requested.
- ✓ We specialize in custom compounding.

New pharmacy customers! Transfer a prescription & get a $10 gift card. (one gift per customer please)

YOUR LOCALLY OWNED, NEIGHBORHOOD PHARMACY AT ARBOR LODGE

N INTERSTATE AVENUE & PORTLAND BLVD • 503.467.4848

www.newseasonsmarket.com • MON-FRI 9am-7pm • SAT 9am-6pm • SUN 10am-4pm