

Keb' Mo' and Robert Cray Share Stage

For summer concert series

What does five Grammys plus three Grammys equal? One heck of a good concert. Keb' Mo' and Robert Cray — two contemporary blues masters with eight Grammys between them — perform Saturday, Aug. 25 at 7 p.m. at the Oregon Zoo, as part of the Wells Fargo Summer Concert Series presented by Fred Meyer.

"The chance to see both of these incredible performers on one stage is too much to pass up," says Krista Swan, event coordinator. "They've both accomplished so much individually that seeing them together should be a real treat."

Keb' Mo' got his start in the backing band of violinist Papa John Creach (Hot Tuna, Jefferson Starship) after Creach had heard his Compton band jamming in a practice space.

Robert Cray, the five-Grammy winner kick-started his career in Eugene in the 1970s, when he formed the Crayhawks with vocalist Curtis Salgado.

Tickets can be purchased at the Oregon Zoo for $22 each. Tickets can also be purchased with service charge at all TicketsWest ticket outlets or by calling TicketsWest at 503-224-8499.

Pearl Jam Cybercast Censored

A live cybercast concert by rock band Pearl Jam was censored omitting lyrics criticizing U.S. President George Bush.

"Those lyrics in no way, shape or form, are something that should have been edited," AT&T spokesman Michael Coe said Thursday, blaming a company hired to handle the cybercast on AT & T's "Blue Room" Website.

The censored lyrics, "George

Bush, leave this world alone" and "George Bush, find yourself another home," were sung to Pink Floyd's "Another Brick in the Wall"

into which Pearl Jam segued while performing "Daughter."

"This, of course, troubles us as artists but also as citizens concerned with the issue of censorship and the increasingly consolidated control of the media," the band said in a posting on its Web site.
