

Rock 'n Roll Blood Drive Saturday

Every two seconds someone in America needs blood, yet only five percent of Americans donate, according to the American Red Cross.

One group that is in dire need is African Americans. For example, sickle-cell disease affects more than 80,000 people in the U.S., with 98 percent of the patients black. Sickle cell patients can require frequent blood transfusions throughout their lives.

The local community is encouraged to make a difference in giving the gift of life by donating blood on Saturday, Aug. 25, from 7:30 a.m. to 1 p.m. during a Rock 'n Roll up Your Sleeves blood drive at the Red Cross Portland Donor Center, 3131 N. Vancouver Ave.

For more information or to make an appointment, call 503-284-4040 or visit givelife.org.

PHOTO BY MARK WASHINGTON/THE PORTLAND OBSERVER

American Red Cross workers Shelley Perry (from left), Charletta Malone and Raymond Paschal reach out to the community at a health care event at Irving Park. Local residents are encouraged to participate this Saturday in a Rock 'n Roll blood drive at the Red Cross Portland Donor Center, 3131 N. Vancouver Ave.

Fading Tribute to War Dead

continued ▲ from Metro

church, but this is fine," Larkins said.

The couple has been approached with some resistance, most recently by city park workers at Irving Park at Northeast Seventh and Fremont. They were told the names were graffiti and asked to stop. Hiss was halfway through two names, Dickens and LaWare, so she washed out Dickens' name, rewrote it across the street and returned later to fill in the outline of LaWare.

The project has also been met with significant support. Hiss said about 85 people have helped out so far, some just stopping long enough to write a name or two, others returning again and again.

Photos, accounts of progress and more information about the U.S. servicemen and women can be found on the Iraq Names Project website, iraqnamesproject.wordpress.com.

Brothers Await Adoption

Wide, irresistible smiles and laughing brown eyes are windows into the warm personalities of Bobby and Anthony, a dynamic duo!

These brothers are among approximately 300 Oregon children available for adoption through the state, generally because of abuse and neglect.

Energetic and spry, Bobby and Anthony can be found racing scooters, playing basketball or just horsing around outside. They also like listening to music or spending time with friends.

Assertive and social, Bobby is a natural born leader. Anthony can be a little shy, and is usually content to follow his older brother's lead.

Both young men require enrichment, new experiences and role-modeling so they can develop skills and self-confidence. It is necessary that they have a variety of organized, physical outlets for their energy.

Bobby and Anthony, ages 11 and 9

Bobby and Anthony need the emotional support and security of a family who loves them and can keep them safe.

For more information on the availability of these brothers for adoption or on how to become a foster or adoptive parent, contact the Special Needs Adoption Coalition at 503-542-2392 or the Department of Human Services at 1-800-331-0503.

Native Plant Gardening

Portland Community Gardens and Ecumenical Ministries of Oregon will plant and maintain the native-habitat area at the Patton Community Garden, 4619 N. Michigan Ave., on Thursday, Aug. 23 from 9 a.m. to noon.

Area residents are invited to join the group to learn about native plants of the Pacific Northwest and learn how to design and maintain a drought-tolerant garden.

Information at 503-823-1612 or comgardens@ci.portland.or.us.

diversity in Print

50¢

Participate in Democracy Vote

Return your ballot by mail or drop it off at any designated voter dropsite. Call 1-866-673-8683 to find a location near you.

The Portland Observer

City of Seaside

Established in 1970

Continued in Seaside Herald

www.portlandobserver.com

Volume XXXII • Number 81

16.50 • July • October 9, 2001

Week in Review

Election Ballots On Way

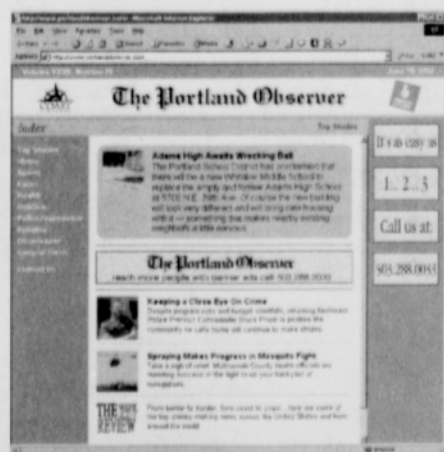

People of color find a political fit

Many benefit from quality of education

Handicapped

the Web & On Web

www.portlandobserver.com

As it quickly becomes more and more an electronic world, The Portland Observer endeavors to meet the needs of our readers and advertisers by going online. With the capability of the Internet, the Portland Observer now reaches a broader audience, and thus sets your business in front of a new generation.

503-288-0033

www.portlandobserver.com

Have you seen me?

Missing and Exploited Children
1-800-THE-LOST
Endangered-Missing

Abby Blagg

Age: 6 Photo Progression Age: 8 Current Age: 12
Date Missing: Nov. 13, 2001
Missing From: Grand Junction, CO
Abby and her mother were last seen in their home on Nov. 12, 2001. Abby's mother was located deceased in June 2002 but Abby is still missing.

Kynande Bennett

Age: 4 Photo Progressed to Current Age: 8
Date Missing: Sept. 29, 2002
Missing From: Whiteville, NC
Kynande was last seen at the Kmart department store in Whiteville, North Carolina, in the company of her mother.

If you have any information please contact:
The National Center for Missing and Exploited Children
1-800-THE-LOST (1-800-843-5678)

This public service announcement provided by the Portland Observer Newspaper.

Free College Success Course

Mt. Hood Community College is offering a special course, HD100 College Success, to help new students make the most of their college experience.

The course introduces students to strategies for success, including library orientation, educational planning, self-management and working with others in a cooperative environment. It also provides students an opportunity to get acquainted with other students and faculty.

Classes are available evenings, weekends and before fall term. An extra bonus is a grand prize drawing to be held at the New Student Orientation Day luncheon on Sept. 18. Students who attend the orientation and sign up for HD100 have a chance to win a full waiver for winter 2008.

For more information, call 503-491-7432 or register online at mhcc.edu.

Sistas' Soul Food and Grill
12309 SE Division
Portland Oregon 97236
(503) 762-3592

Email: teraaan1@msn.com