Alberta Street Fair Saturday

Dance, music and art for the fun of it

In what has become a trademark of the Alberta Street Fair, clowns on bikes pedal up and down the northeast Portland thoroughfare past shoppers, diners and curious onlookers.

The Alberta Street Fair celebrates its 10th anniversary Saturday, Sept. 15 from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Alberta Street has its own eclectic energy that is sure to provide surprises and wonderful experiences for all.

The annual fair takes place all along the thoroughfare from Northeast 12th to 31st Avenues with a cacophony of multicultural dance, music, art, poetry, puppetry, food, kid's activities, community services and just plain fun. A parade led by the Lions of Batucada will be held at 1 p.m.

Multicultural entertainment will fill the air with sights and sounds at different staging areas on the street.

Merchants will be participating with special sales, food and on-site entertainment and art. Children's activities will take place at Northeast 14th Place and up and down the street.

Art on Alberta, the nonprofit arts organization, is the sponsor of the Alberta Street Fair.

Art cars and a host of community organizations will march in a parade at the street fair. Music, art activities and performances galore will delight fair goers along the street.

The Alberta Street Fair has grown larger and better each year.
