

2007 Year in Review

continued from A5

Vanport Square Success

Sept. 26 -- Ray Leary oversees the finishing touches of "Vanport Square," a major development of minority-owned businesses on Northeast Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard in the heart of Portland's black community.

Fifty Years of Service

Oct. 10 -- Fannie Stills Chatman and Carmen P. Walker, two original members of Portland Links, Inc., help the local African-American service organization celebrate its 50th anniversary.

Miracles Club Gets Lifeline

Oct. 31 -- An artists' rendering shows a new permanent home for the Miracles Club, a drug and alcohol-free community center serving African Americans. The Portland Development Commission approved plans to help finance construction of the proposed building on Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard.

Movement for Peace Department

Nov. 14 -- Portland activists join a nationwide movement to foster non-violent and practical solutions to wars and other problems of domestic and international conflict by endorsing the creation of a U.S. Department of Peace.

Entrepreneur on National Stage

Dec. 5 -- Northeast Alberta Street entrepreneur Roslyn Hill is photographed for that national publication AARP the Magazine for her selection as one of 10 Americans who use their passion to make the world a better place.
