In light of the legacy of Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., do you think that we are moving forward in terms of equality and civil rights?

Yes we are, but slowly. You can't expect human beings to evolve overnight.
— Heather Birdsong

MLK made such a difference in history, but at the same time there are so many other issues. Things take time to change. We are moving forward in positive ways though.
— Ricardo Ballas

People in my high school are all friends together and I think it would be that way no matter what.
— Jenny Lee

We are moving forward because of what he fought for in terms of equal rights and his influence is still present today.
— Angel Graham

If a man hasn't discovered something that he would die for, he isn't fit to live.

— Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

On "Bloody Sunday," March 7, 1965, Alabama State Troopers and a sheriff's posse in clouds of tear gas trample the first attempted voting rights march out of Selma.

Marchers entering Montgomery on the fifth day wave to observers.

PEOPLE MARCHED FOR IT.
RODE THE BUS FOR IT.
WENT TO JAIL FOR IT.

*Your vote is your voice.
Use it!*

'The art of acceptance is the art of making someone who has just done you a small favor wish that he might have done you a greater one.'

— Martin Luther King, Jr.
