

Cool Nutz Kicks off Hip-Hop Radio Show

Featuring hottest Northwest artists

Portland hip-hop mainstay Cool Nutz is teaming up with CBS Radio's KXJM (Jammin 107.5 FM) to bring Northwest Breakout Radio to Portland's airwaves.

The broadcast will feature the hottest in Northwest hip-hop and urban radio ready music, and will give artists from the region the opportunity to gain further exposure for their music on one of the regions hottest urban radio stations.

The show will feature artist interviews, classic, new and exclusive music from top flight artists from Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Northern California. The broadcast will also feature a Bar 4 Bar segment to give Northwest artists the opportunity to enter into lyrical combat in head to head competition over today's hottest instrumentals, and winners will be given the chance to defend their wins in a week to week competition.

Northwest Breakout Radio will also feature celebrity music reviews of submitted music that will not serve as a voice of hate, but a tool for constructive criticism to help bring regional artists closer to receiving regular airplay with feedback from some of today's hottest urban artists.

Look for special guest DJ's to feature exclusive mixes from Northwest artists on the show, as well as up to date information on upcoming live performances from Northwest artists, club nights, album release dates, and community affairs and events.

The show will premiere on Friday Oct. 3

Portland Hip Hop extraordinaire Cool Nutz will team up with Jammin 107.5(KXJM) to start the Northwest Breakout Radio Show, featuring the hottest in Northwest rap and urban radio.

from 9 p.m. to 10 p.m. and will air every Friday following.

The promoters said they are looking forward to receiving music from all Northwest artists with the proper material that fits the format of the show.

All music can be sent to Jammin 107.5, in care of the Northwest Breakout Show, 2040 S.W. First Ave, Portland, OR 97201.

All music must be radio edited (clean), mastered and from a currently released or upcoming album. Full albums are welcome as well, so that show producers are able to get more familiar with the artist.

Arts & ENTERTAINMENT

Ballet meets Martial Arts

White Bird launches its new season with an extraordinary collaboration called Long River, High Sky by Alonzo King's LINES Ballet with the Shaolin Monks of China on Wednesday, Sept. 24 at 7:30 p.m. the Arlene Schnitzer Concert Hall. The performance synthesis of eastern and western forms of movement that is subtle and explosive, athletic and spiritual.

Carrying on the Vibe

The tragic passing of Dennis Brown in 1999 left an irreplaceable hole in the world of reggae, but while no one can replace him, several young artists continue to carry on his vibe.

One that you may not have heard of is Katt I, also known as Alson

Katt I and Roots Revolution will bring Jamaican reggae the Blue Monk, 3341 S.E. Belmont St. on Saturday, Sept. 27.

"Delroy" Burton, a Jamaican crooner who has worked his way up from the hotel circuit in Jamaica to an opening act for major stars like Michael Rose, Mutabaruka, and Toots and the Maytals.

Katt I and Roots Revolution with special guest Pablo I will perform Saturday, Sept. 27 at 9 pm. at the Blue Monk, 3341 S.E. Belmont Ave.

The concert is the 10th in a monthly reggae event to benefit KBOO community radio.

Underground Hip-Hop

A showcase of Portland's finest hip-hop musicians who's names includes Libretto of the home grown Life Savas and Mikey Vegas and Illa j of the Fli boi's will gather at Berbat's Pan on Wednesday, Sept. 24.

The who's who of Portland's underground hip-hop will congregate to welcome back rising star Luck One, a dazzling performer who articulates politically relevant topics with a visceral flow while painting them with metaphor that can be understood at all levels.

Door will open at 8:30 p.m. Admission is $8. The show is 21 and over. Advance tickets are available.

Films Benefit Food Bank

Donate three cans of food at any Regal Cinemas on Thursday, Sept. 25 and receive movie admission and popcorn. The offer is good at any local Regal for all shows except no pass attractions.

"Cans Film Festival is your chance to see a great film for a great bargain, just three cans of food," says Rachel Bristol, Oregon Food Bank chief executive officer. "As the cost of food and fuel rises, more people seek emergency food. The food that moviegoers donate during Cans Film Festival helps regional food banks of the OFB Network fight hunger in their local communities."

If you don't have time to see a movie, you can still help fight hunger by donating nonperishable food at any Regal Cinemas location on Thursday, Sept. 25, from 11:30 a.m. to 10:30 p.m. All food donations benefit the Oregon Food Bank Network in the community where it was collected.
