Breakout Show Adds Performances

Soul P

With the start of the Jammin 107.5's Northwest Breakout Show, hip-hop has a new outlet to expose the masses to quality urban music from the Northwest region.

Now Northwest Breakout announces the start of a once a month live performance to showcase featured artists.

Liv Warfield

The first performance will take place on Friday, Dec. 26 at 9 p.m. at the Doug Fir, 830 E. Burnside, featuring Illmaculate of Sandpeople, Liv Warfield, MyG, Soul P, Alphabet Stew and Jae Lava. The show will be hosted by Stevie G of Jammin 107.5 & DJ Fatboy.

Also, with the success and overwhelming response of Northwest Breakout, Jammin 107.5 is moving the show from its current one hour time slot on Friday's to a new two hour time slot on Saturday evenings from 6 to 8 p.m., starting Dec. 6.

New Theater's Holiday Treat

"Fruitcake," a deliciously improvised holiday treat for the whole family begins Sunday, Nov. 30 at 2 p.m. and continues on Sundays through Dec. 21 at Curious Comedy Theater, the new venue in Vanport Square at 5225 N.E. Martin Luther King Blvd.

"There are so many families looking for affordable, quality entertainment that's fun for everyone. We offer just that every Sunday at two o'clock," said Stacey Hallal, Curious Comedy artistic director.

"From It's a Wonderful Life to Home Alone to A Christmas Story to Elf, everyone has a favorite family holiday classic," Hallal said. "In Fruitcake, the cast and audience work together and spontaneously create a totally unique original holiday classic each week."

Curious Comedy Productions is a non-profit organization whose mission is to improve the lives of kids, adults, and seniors through the art of comedy. Curious Comedy Theater opened in early October and offers sketch, improvisation, and experimental comedy shows and classes for grown ups and kids
