State Champs Make History

Jefferson High School's state championship basketball team was honored during an assembly last week at the north Portland school. Assistant Coach Dale Baugh (right), told students that the Democrats were the first team in decades to win the state title two times in a row. He said that if the team remains steady, and with a little luck, it could replicate its success for a third year.

Carolina Cruises to NCAA Title

Win 5th crown in blowout

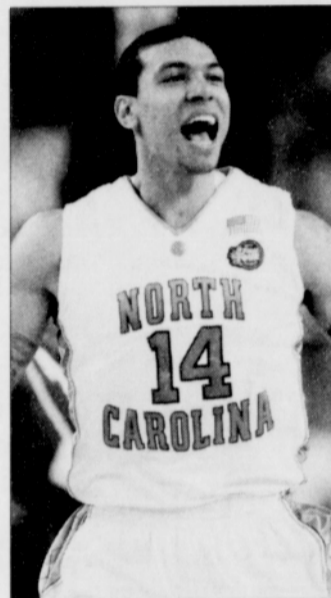

(AP) -- Warm and fuzzy they were not.

For a year, maybe more, North Carolina could feel this national championship coming.

It was a calculated march, and behind the unrelenting play of Tyler Hansbrough, Wayne Ellington and Ty Lawson, the Tar Heels stomped out Michigan State's inspirational run Monday night with an 89-72 blowout that wasn't that close.

"I felt like it was fitting for us to do what this group just accomplished," coach Roy Williams said.

Hansbrough scored 18

North Carolina's Danny Green celebrates a 3-pointer. Green hit two-of-three attempts from beyond the arc during the NCAA title game.

points, Ellington had 19 and Lawson led all scorers with 21 and also had a record eight steals. Now, they and Danny Green can all head to the NBA feeling good about their decision to return to school. They're bringing home Carolina's fifth championship, and the second for Williams.

All those upperclassmen, save Hansbrough, came back in part because their draft prospects didn't look so good. They also didn't want their college careers to end on last year's embarrassing loss to Kansas in the Final Four.

The Spartans (31-7) never had a chance. The Tar Heels (34-4) were up 55-34 at half-time, breaking a 42-year-old title-game record for biggest lead at the break and setting the mark for most points at the half.

Lots of basketball fans saw this coming, including America's No. 1 Hoopster-in-Chief.

Yes, President Barack Obama picked the Tar Heels to take it all in his much-publicized bracket.

Magic Johnson, Michigan State's Spartan-in-Chief, joined Larry Bird at center court to present the game ball, a tribute to the 30-year anniversary of their historic matchup and Michigan State's first title.

Devoted Family Man will be missed

Sam L. Moore Jr.

Services were held Tuesday, March 31, 2009 at Vancouver Avenue Baptist Church for Sam L. Moore Jr.

He was born Feb. 21, 1945 in Winnsboro, La., the second child of Samuel and Ethel Moore.

In 1963, he graduated from Franklin Parrish Training School in Winnsboro. He enlisted in the Marines and served in the Vietnam War. In 1964, the family moved to Portland.

Sam was employed at Cascade General as a journeyman painter for the major part of his adult life.

He enjoyed playing dominoes, early morning walks, working in his yard and making daily trips to Safeway. Family was very important to him. After the death of his parents, he took on the role of head of the family. He opened his heart and home to his family members.

He was a member of Fellowship Baptist Church under the leadership of Dr. Johnny Pack IV. He was a faithful servant and every Sunday at the 8 a.m. service, you would find him sitting on his regular pew.

When cancer took over his body he was at peace because his faith made him whole.

Sam had a son, Sam L. Moore III and a stepson Demarcus Preston, prior to meeting his wife to be, Theresa Ross. From this union they gave birth to Omar and Algia Moore, joining his stepchildren LaBoyce and Natasha Ross.

Family gatherings were his specialty; the meals he cooked were mouth watering. Sam and Theresa found love and happiness for 28 years and took their marriage vows as their foundation of love, life and laughter. The vow "until death do us part" happened for them on March 24, 2009 at 5:42 a.m. when God called Sam home to rest.

Sam leaves to cherish his memory and legacy his loving wife, his children and stepchildren; brothers, Roy Bernard Thomas and wife Cynthia of Arlington, Texas, Demarcus Moore and his wife Joyce of Portland, and Willie Moore of Tacoma, Wash.; sisters, Brenda Coleman, Gwendolyn Robinson and husband Willie, Deborah Warren and husband Erwin, Ollie Banks, Mona Jimenez, Constance McCool and husband Mac, Algia Moore-Thomas and Margo Taylor, all of Portland; a host of grandchildren, nephews, nieces, cousins, aunts, uncles and special friends.

Arrangements by Terry Family Funeral Home.
