Period Authentic Kitchen Tour

Showcasing many house styles

Visit nine historic homes and tour wonderful period or historically accurate kitchens during a Kitchen Revival Tour sponsored by the Architectural Heritage Center.

If you're planning your own renovation or just love to see inside vintage homes, the Kitchen Revival Tour is a great way to learn how kitchens can be kept intact or appropriately renovated to meet contemporary needs.

The tour showcases creative solutions in all price ranges and house styles run the gamut from Victorian-era Queen Anne to mid-century. You'll learn up close and in person how the kitchen has evolved over time from a utilitarian workspace to the center of family living.

Homeowners will be on hand to share their experiences. Whether it's the preservation of an original gem, a do-it-yourself restoration, or a renovation completed under the guidance of a local contractor, the Kitchen Revival Tour promises to be both educational and entertaining.

The Pittock Mansion's period authentic kitchen is one of the locations for the Kitchen Revival Tour on Saturday, sponsored by the Architectural Heritage Center, 701 S.E. Grand Ave.

As a special treat, the Pittock Mansion's kitchen will be part of the tour. Not only will tour goers get to see the fantastic kitchen in the main residence, but the understated 1920s gate house as well. If you have never been to the Pittock Mansion or gotten behind the scene into the kitchen, this is a great opportunity to see one of Portland's most important historic attractions.

The 11th annual event is Saturday, April 18 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. starting from the Heritage Center at 701 S.E. Grand Ave. Cost is $20 for members and $25 for the general public.

Pre-registration is strongly suggested - call 503-231-7264 or www.VisitAHC.org

The Architectural Heritage Center is a non-profit resource center and showcase for historic preservation in the Portland metro area.

Art, Talent at Cultural Celebration

Since debuting in February, Colored Pencils Arts and Culture Night has drawn hundreds of Portlanders eager to share in the rich textures of cultures represented in our neighborhoods.

About one in five Portland resident is foreign-born, with growing populations of families from Latin America, Asia, Africa and Eastern Europe. Colored Pencils Arts and Culture Night brings together visual artists and performers from a wide variety of racial, ethnic and tribal backgrounds.

The event, held every last Friday of the month at the Intercultural Organizing office, 700 n. Killingsworth St., is organized by Portland artist Nim Xuto and writer Ronault L.S. Catalani (Polo) in partnership with staff and volunteers from the Center for Intercultural Organizing, City of Portland Office of Human Relations, Colors of Influence online magazine and the Latino Network.

Admission is $3. For more information, visit www.coloredpencilsart.com.

Diversity of Portland's racial, ethnic and tribal communities merge with artwork at the monthly Colored Pencils Arts and Culture Night, scheduled Friday, April 24 at the Center for Intercultural Organizing office, 700 N.
