Arts & ENTERTAINMENT

Everything is Little

For the ninth year in a row, the Guardino Gallery, 2939 N.E. Alberta St., will present their very popular Holiday Group Show, a show where everything is little.

A whimsical painting by Tripper Dungan.

Forty-two artists were given the challenge to create artwork that would be no larger than a seven inch square or cube. While most of the artists in the show are accustomed to working on a far larger scale, they responded with enthusiasm.

The artwork is as varied as the artists. A wide variety of mediums will be represented: paintings, clay, glass, resin, encaustic, metal, wood, photography and mixed media.

An artists' reception is scheduled for Friday, Nov. 27 from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. The exhibit runs through Dec. 27.

Oprah Plans TV Show Exit

(AP) -- Holding back tears, Oprah Winfrey told her studio audience Friday that she would end her show in 2011 after a quarter-century on the air, saying prayer and careful thought led her to her decision.

Winfrey told the audience that she loved "The Oprah Winfrey Show," that it had been her life and that she knew when it was time to say goodbye. "Twenty-five years feels right in my bones and feels right in my spirit," she said.

Winfrey, 55, is widely expected to start up a new talk show on OWN: The Oprah Winfrey Network, a much-delayed joint venture with Discovery Communications Inc.

that is projected to debut in 2011. OWN is to replace the Discovery Health Channel and will debut in some 74 million homes.

Winfrey offered no specifics about her plans for the future, except to say that she intended to produce the best possible shows during her last 18 months on the air.

Tell-All Book Released by Sniper's Ex

Mildred Muhammad is not scared silent any longer.

Her book titled 'Scared Silent' recounts her 12-year marriage to convicted D.C. sniper John Allen Muhammad. She maintains her ex-husband's plot to randomly kill people in 2002 was a smokescreen, and part of Muhammad's plan to hunt her down so her murder could be blamed on the D.C. sniper.

The former wife said she knew her husband had come undone since his return from the Gulf War but no one ever took her seriously, even after he took off with their three children.

In this poignant memorial, she breaks her silence about the domestic violence she suffered during their marriage and the tragic events that occurred after their divorce.

Mildred Muhammad has dedicated her book to her three children from her marriage to John Muhammad and her dedication to domestic violence awareness.

Ruin to Redemption

The Intefstate Firehouse Cultural Center, 5340 N. Interstate Ave., has extended Ruin to Redemption, an interactive exhibit that takes audiences on an unforgettable and very personal journey from darkness to light.

IFCC will reopen the exhibit after Thanksgiving on Tuesday, Dec. 1 with the show continuing until Dec. 19.

The exhibit contains striking photographs and candid testimonials of ex-convicts and former gang members, chronicling their harrowing experiences and triumphant turnarounds to become successful artists in Hollywood.

A gripping audio tour of the subject's dramatic, real life stories compliments the stark, black-and-white photographs, revealing messages of perse-
