

Second Recall Falls Short

The second campaign to recall Portland Mayor Sam Adams has failed, according to organizer and former state Sen. Avel Gordly. She said that if the campaign had more funding, they would have sent out one more mailing to gather support and believes that would have boosted them over the required number of signatures.

Voter Pamphlets Coming

Voter pamphlets for the May 18

primary election will be mailed out to Oregon voters starting Wednesday. For more than a century, the state has been publishing the pamphlets that allow Oregonians to make statements on candidates and issues.

Camby Contract Extended

Blazer Marcus Camby signed a two-year contract extension Tuesday. The 6-11, 235-pound center was acquired from the Los Angeles Clippers on Feb. 16. He grabbed 17 rebounds Sunday as the Trail Blazers beat Phoenix in Game 1

Week in The Review

of their first-round playoff series.

Rights Activist Dies at 98

Dorothy Irene Height, a pioneering voice of the civil rights movement whose activism stretched from the New Deal to the election of President Barack Obama, died Tuesday. She was 98. Height led the National Council of Negro Women for 40 years and was known for her determination and grace — as well as her wry humor.

Hooks Remembered

Benjamin L. Hooks, a champion of minorities and the poor who as executive director of the NAACP increased the group's stature while quelling fear created by a 1989 firebomber who targeted his group and officials in the South, is being remembered after his death Thursday. He was 85.

Too fat to fight?

Many American children are so overweight from being fed French fries, pizza and other unhealthy foods at school lunchrooms that they cannot handle the physical rigors of being in the military, a group of retired officers say in a new report.

Cirque to Salute Jackson

First the Beatles and Elvis, now Michael Jackson. The acrobatic troupe Cirque du Soleil announced Tuesday that it will put on a live touring show featuring the songs of the King of Pop starting late next year.
