Boys and Girls Club members work to make the Oregon Zoo "Bright Green"

Lesson in Environmental Health

Members of the Portland Boys and Girls Club joined Safeway's Bright Green Clean Team and spent a few hours turning the Oregon Zoo "Bright Green." The children used the Bright

Green all-purpose cleaner on railings, benches, trash receptacles, signage and other items that get a lot of traffic from the public.

"Community involvement and environmental safety are two very important goals for our Keystone group," said Elizabeth Guzman of the Portland Boy's and Girl's Club. "We were able to bond as a group and show others that contributing to the environment's health is as easy as finding cleaning products free from chemicals that damage the environment."

The Boys and Girls Club was one of seven other volunteer groups to participate in the July 10 event.
