

LAW & JUSTICE

Film Director Parvez Sharma (left) and Producer Sandi DuBowski explore the complex intersections of Islam and homosexuality in the film 'A Jihad for Love.'

Human Rights Film Event

Portland's Office of Human Relations and Human Rights Commission is sponsoring the screening of the first-ever feature-length documentary that explores the complex global intersections of Islam and homosexuality.

"A Jihad for Love," a Parvez

Sharma and Sandi DuBowski film, will be shown free to the public as part of a Human Rights Film and Dialogue Series on Wednesday, Aug. 25 at 5 p.m. at the commission's offices, located at 5315 N. Vancouver Ave.

Members of the community are invited to learn, explore and talk about the story of gay, lesbian, bisexual, and transgender Muslims struggling with their faith and sexuality. The dialogue will be led by Office of Human Relations staff and used as a space where participants seek to understand, find commonalities and share our experiences.
