No Villain for New Idol Cast

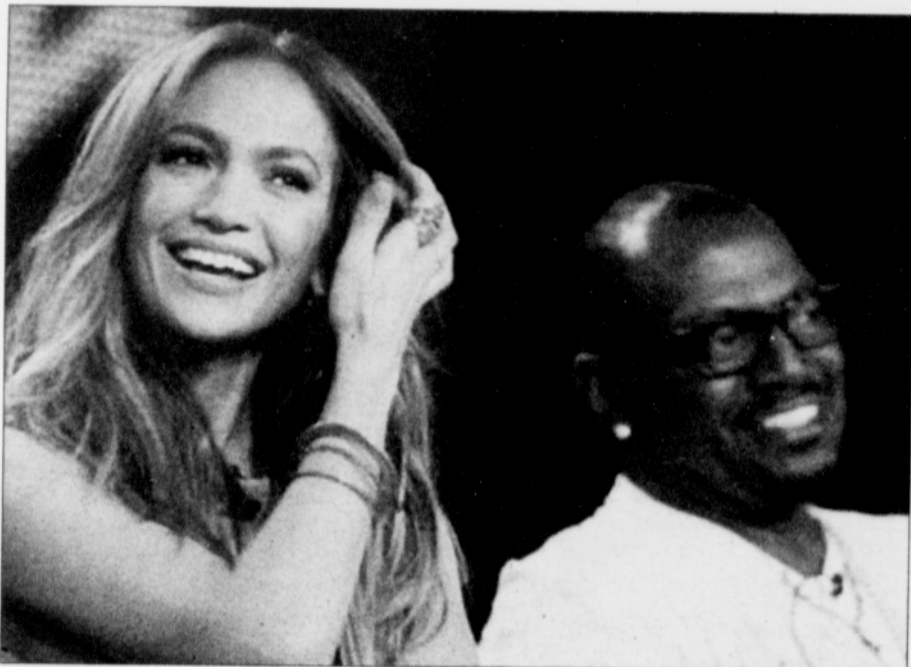

(AP) -- Now that Simon Cowell is gone, nobody is ready to claim a role as the villain on "American Idol."

New judges Jennifer Lopez and Steven Tyler told reporters Tuesday that they're looking forward to using their experience to help guide new artists. The series is set to begin its 10th season on Wednesday, Jan. 19, with only Randy Jackson left from the original cast of judges.

Producer Nigel Lythgoe says the new season of "Idol" will be more about searching for an eventual winner of the show "rather than stopping people getting there."

Jackson promised fans that they will see "a more assertive dog, a little bit more 'hair of the dog.'"

The show's leaders promised an "Idol" that's more fun for viewers

Showcasing Urban Landscapes

Urban landscape is the subject of a photography exhibit on display now through Jan. 28 in the Multimedia Classroom building gallery at Washington State University Vancouver. "Modern Relics" features striking, black-and-white photography by Dale Strouse. By photographing man-made objects seemingly abandoned in the environment, the objects become relics and commentaries on the frayed and tangled fabric of American culture. WSU Vancouver is located at 14204 N.E. Salmon Creek Ave. east of the 134th Street exit from either I-5 or I-205. The gallery is open from 8 a.m. - 9 p.m. Monday through Thursday and 8 a.m. - 5 p.m. Friday. Admission is free.

Zoo Opens Free for MLK Holiday

Donations of food, clothing accepted

The Oregon Zoo is offering free admission, Monday, Jan. 17, celebrating the spirit of public service associated with Martin Luther King Jr. Day. "It is the 25th anniversary of Martin Luther King Jr. Day and a perfect opportunity for the zoo to provide this service to our community," said Kim Smith, zoo director.

Although not required for admission, zoo visitors are encouraged to bring donations of food or gently-used clothing to benefit SnowCap and Transition Projects. Donation barrels will be available at the zoo entrance.

"We hope our visitors will follow Dr. King's example of giving to the community," Smith said. "A few cans of food or a donation of clothing can provide a much-needed service to the less fortunate in our community."

According to SnowCap, the metro region's high unemployment rate has driven record numbers of people to their organization in search of food to feed their families. Last month they fed nearly 11,000 people.

From polar bears in the frigid Arctic to elephants in the forests of Asia, Martin Luther King Jr. Day visitors can see animals from around the world.
