LAW & JUSTICE

Witness to Genocide

Concordia University invites members of the community to hear from Carl Wilkens, former head of the Adventist Relief Agency in Rwanda, during the discussion "Witness to Genocide: Servant Leadership in Action."

Wilkens was the only American to remain in Rwanda during the genocide in 1994. He personally helped thousands of people from being butchered. He is currently the head of the non-profit group World Outside my Shoes.

The free event will take place Thursday, Feb. 10 at 7:30p.m. at the Concordia University Student Events and Activities Center in the Hagen Campus Building.

Sexual Assault near School

The Portland Police Bureau, in cooperation with Crime Stoppers, is asking for the public's help in solving a sexual assault that occurred near David Douglas High School in southeast Portland.

On Jan. 21 at approximately 12:40 p.m., a high school female was sexually assaulted in the 1000 block of Southeast 135th Avenue, near David Douglas High School. She was forced into a vehicle by an unknown male who then sexually assaulted her.

The man is described as white, approximately 19-21 years old, with a thin muscular build, and short dark hair. A composite drawing was made of the suspect. His vehicle was described as a newer black 4-door car with tinted windows.

Crime Stoppers is offering a cash reward of up to $1,000 for information, reported to Crime Stoppers, that leads to an arrest in this case, or any unsolved felony, and you can remain anonymous. Call Crime Stoppers at 503-823-HELP(4357), leave a tip online at crimestoppersoforegon.com, or text 823HELP plus your tip and send it to CRIMES(274697).

Intercultural Center Advocacy Day

The Center for Intercultural Organizing, a Portland-based immigrant and refugee rights coalition, will be gathering community members in Salem for a Tuesday, Feb. 22 day of legislative action.

Participants will spend the day attending brief meetings in the Oregon Legislature with elected officials and policymakers.

One in 10 Oregonians is foreign-born, according to the Census Bureau, though the specific impact of policy decisions on immigrants and refugees often goes unexamined by state government.

The day of political action is meant to mobilize and build awareness around key issues, including proposals to create a commission on immigrant and refugee affairs and enact cultural competency standards for medical professionals.

Speakers at noontime rally on the Capitol steps will include Sen. Chip Shields, representing north and northeast Portland, Secretary of State Kate Brown, and the intercultural center's executive director, Kayse Jama.

Fake Collection Calls Noted

The Oregon Department of Justice has received several complaints regarding phony debt collection calls.

Scam artists pose as debt collectors or law enforcement officers calling about an outstanding debt from an online payday loan. They frequently use fake phone numbers and official sounding business names.

Some people have been tricked into paying nonexistent debt because the scam artist knew personal information about them, including their Social Security number, home address, e-mail, and names of family and personal references.

Not only are these phony debt collectors stealing from consumers, the tactics they are using are illegal. Attorney General Kroger reminds residents that debt collectors may not harass or abuse you or any third party.

Collectors must send written notice of the debt within five days of initial contact. The notice should include information about the debt, the name of the creditor, and notice that the consumer has 30 days to dispute the debt in writing.
