The percussive hit musical Stomp returns to Portland with some new surprises and full-scale routines.

STOMP-ing Across America

STOMP is making its return to Portland's Keller Auditorium this weekend with five shows, beginning Friday, March 11 and continuing through Sunday, March 13.

The percussive off Broadway hit is a phenomenal show of bashing, crashing, smashing, swishing, banging and kicking. Two new full-scale routines utilize props like tractor tire inner tubes and paint cans.

From its beginnings as a street performance in the United Kingdom, STOMP has grown into an international sensation over the past 14 years. Tickets available through Ticketmaster.

Story of Black Radical on Film

The Bread and Roses Center, 6834 N.E. Glisan St., hosts an International Women's Day showing of the documentary The Eyes of The Rainbow.

In this film, Assata Shakur tells her story of being a leader in the Black Panther Party and in the Black Liberation Army, and her political exile in Cuba since 1986 after her escape from a U.S. prison.

Her story can be linked to the current struggle against targeting of activists, Muslims, and immigrants by the FBI.

The documentary will be shown on Saturday, March 12 at 7 p.m. A $2 donation will be accepted at the door and everyone is welcome. A Latin American buffet, with vegetarian option, will be available at 6 p.m. for a $7 donation.

The Portland Cello Project is an ensemble of local musicians who are dedicated to forming partnerships to build a stronger music community. Members of the group will perform a family concert, March 11 at the Community Music Center, 3350 S.E. Francis St.

Cello Project to Present Fun, Family Concert

The Portland Cello Project is presenting a free and fun concert for parents and kids to attend together.

The project's "Indie Cello Orchestra", performs Friday, March 11; at 7:15 p.m. during the Portland Parks and Recreation Department's Family Friday Concert Series at the Community Music Center, 3350 S.E. Francis St.

Tickets are available at the door with a suggested donation of $5 or $15 for a family of any size. Fresh popcorn, snacks and refreshments are sold at the door for a minimal price.

The Portland Cello Project is an ensemble of 8 to 16 cellos. The local musicians have a philosophy to build a stronger music community with collaborative performances. Members include a "who's who" list of Portland musicians, from The Dandy Warhols to Laura Gibson, Vagabond Opera, and Storm Large, as well as most of the members of the Decemberists.
