Two Arrests Made in Teen's Murder

Information needed in pursuit of other suspects

Police say more than 100 officers including members of the Gang Enforcement Team and US Marshals

Service worked together on the investigation. Hampton was with a group of friends at Holladay Park across from the mall when the shots were fired. Investigators also said they located a 1980s white Mercedes Benz that was described as the suspect vehicle.

Police have made two arrests in last month's fatal shooting of 14-year-old Shilo Hampton near the Lloyd Center mall.

Detectives served search warrants Thursday and arrested 20-year-old Jimmie Ray Sanders-Garcia and 21-year-old Edward Mohr. Both are booked in the Multnomah County Detention Center on murder charges.

A news conference was held at City Hall Friday asking for more help in the pursuit of other suspects that police believe were involved. Mayor Sam Adams and leaders from the city's African American community attended the news conference.

Police said tips from the public led to Thursday's arrests, but more information is still needed.

Hampton was found shot in the head and stomach on a sidewalk in Holladay Park shortly after the April 18th shooting. He was freshman at Madison High School and lived in a foster home.

One of Dr. King's closest aides visits PCC

As a respected activist, civil rights leader and one of Dr. King's closest aides to witness his murder, Reverend Samuel Billy Kyle will tour the Portland Community College district and give a talk, "A Bullet Can't Kill a Dream," to both honor and explore Dr. Martin Luther King's legacy and death.

Born in Shelby, Mississippi, in 1934, Reverend Kyle has been a pastor of the Monumental Baptist Church in Memphis Tennessee since 1959.

TALKING HELPED ME GET MY LIFE BACK.

Before I started gambling, I talked to my friends and family about everything. When my gambling got out of control, I lost all my connections. When I finally realized I couldn't handle my gambling issues alone, I called for help and started talking again. It turns out getting help was just something I already knew how to do, which was talking.

Need help with a gambling problem? We're here to talk!
