Be the next Gong Champion

From YouTube clips and home-made videos, local filmmakers will share their newest projects at the Video Gong Show, returning to the Hollywood Theatre in northeast Portland on Monday, July 25 and continuing every last Monday of the month.

Clips that fail to wow and entertain the crowd risk being "gonged" during the month events, while pieces that stand audience scrutiny the longest will earn a prize upon being crowned as Gong Champion.

Content for videos is "anything goes" (exception, no porn). The more ridiculous, revealing, and shameful the better.

Clips should be no longer than five minutes. Formats include Vimeo or YouTube URL, DVD, Bluray, VHS, or a lap top with a VGA adapter. Bring only what you want shown because there will not be time to scan a disk or file for your clip.

Tickets are $7 and available online at hollywoodtheatre.org or at the Hollywood Theatre box office.
