

The Portland Development Commission partners every day on projects that create quality jobs and vibrant neighborhoods for local residents.

Above: Mayor Sam Adams and Rev. Alcena Boozer join members of the Portland Alumnae Chapter of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority in celebrating the grand opening of the June Key Delta Community Center. PDC provided critical support to the Center to transform it from a former gas station and brownfield site into a Living Building demonstration project and true community resource.