James McDaniel and the Lady Warriors in 'Edge of America', a film based on a true story that takes place on the Three Nations Indian Reservation.

Dynamics of Identity Explored

Jefferson High School Middle College families and supporters are invited to a Multicultural Film Festival screening of Edge of America, a film based on a true story that takes place on the Three Nations Indian Reservation.

The film focuses on the reservation's high school girls' basketball team that is to be coached by a newcomer, Mr. Kenny Williams, an African American. The dynamics of the interactions between coach and players will be the topic of a discussion on the dynamics of identity from a Native American perspective.

Area residents are invited to view the free film and add your voice to the discussion.

The screening is Wednesday, March 13 at 5 p.m. at the North Portland Neighborhood Library, 512 N. Killingsworth in the Second Floor Conference Room. It will be facilitated by Mr. Richard Twiss and Dr. Randy Woodley.
