Assist for King School Park

Portland Trail Blazer legend and community ambassador Jerome Kersey (left) joins City Commissioner Nick Fish during a ceremony on Saturday to kick off the refurbishing of the basketball court at King School Park. The court will be revamped as a kick-off to the Sprite Spark Parks Project, a program that will refresh basketball courts in public parks and recreation centers throughout the nation. In partnership with the Portland Trail Blazers, Sprite will donate $20,000 to Portland Parks & Recreation to refurbish rims, backboards, benches and playing surfaces – sparking new life to King School Park.
