

SUMMER FUN GUIDE

Celebrate the Outdoors

The U.S. Forest Service is celebrating the outdoors by waiving fees at all National Forest-operated recreation day-use fee sites on National Get Outdoors Day, Saturday, June 9.

People can join the celebration by enjoying a hike at a favorite trail without paying a day-use fee or by participating in a planned volunteer activity such as a trail work project or dedication.

There are more than a thousand National Trails Day events planned across the country. The Bureau of Land Management in Oregon and Washington has also organized special events and waived many recreation fees.

Later this year, free days at planned for National Public Lands Day on Sept. 29 and Veterans Day on Nov. 11.

Summer Story Times

Multnomah County Library and Concordia University are joining forces once again to bring Summer Story Times to the college's northeast Portland neighborhood.

A Multnomah County Children's Librarian from the Albina Branch will lead songs and stories for young children on Tuesdays, June 19, July 17, and Aug. 14, from 10 a.m. to 11 a.m., at Concordia University's George R. White Library and Learning Center, 2800 N.E. Liberty St.
