Hands-On Experience

"The purpose of this grant is to give students hands-on experience and exposure to all the amazing careers in conservation and natural resources. We want them to gain work experience, but we also want to get them out of the city and immersed in the natural world," says Michael Oliver, Project YESS's advising specialist.

Look for the Project YESS booth at the Summer Jobs fair that will be held winter term on the Gresham campus, 26000 S.E. Stark St. For more information, and for applications for the next session of classes, visit mhcc.edu/yess.

Board Opening after Williams' Death

PCC seeks candidates for position

The PCC Board is responsible for the budget and overall policy direction of the college. Board meetings are held once a month, generally on the third Thursday evening. Members receive no pay.

The board is interested in finding a person with an interest in public service, knowledge of educational issues, familiarity with PCC, and availability to attend board meetings, as well as college events and activities of the Association of Community College Trustees and the Oregon Community College Association.

Those interested should send a letter indicating their interest and qualifications for serving on the board, a current resume, and a list of four references. Letters of

Harold Williams

The Portland Community College Board of Directors is seeking candidates to fill a vacancy as a result of the recent death of board member Harold Williams.

The person selected would serve through June, and could serve through June of 2015 if they successfully ran for the office by filing in the college's May Primary election for Zone 2, which serves mostly north and northeast Portland and Columbia County.

Board members must live in the zones they represent and be registered voters in that zone. Applicants can verify if they live in Zone 2 by contacting the Multnomah County Elections Office at 503-988-3720 or visiting pcc.edu/boardmember recommendation are also welcomed, but not required.
