Annual street fair
 returns on Saturday

The Alberta Street Fair celebrates the local community as it returns for its 15th year on Saturday, Aug. 11 with three stages of entertainment, including a wide range of musical acts, children's performances and belly dancers.

New this year will be an acoustic-only stage with performers based on creativity, originality and diversity, with preference for local artists appropriate for a family-friendly event. Musical sets are typically 40 minutes in length with 15 minutes between acts.

The fair will feature 250 vendors with a focus on sustainable local products, artists, crafts and foods.

Other features include a kids parade at 11 a.m. that starts
