Titled the People's History of Hawthorne, a new public mural at the Eagles Lodge on Southeast 50th Avenue and Hawthorne Boulevard, depicts notable historical figures from the neighborhood, the street car line and the always changing figures who have been part of Hawthorne for 100 years.

Diversity in Style

Six new public art murals take shape

Six new public art murals are capturing the attention of local residents this summer.

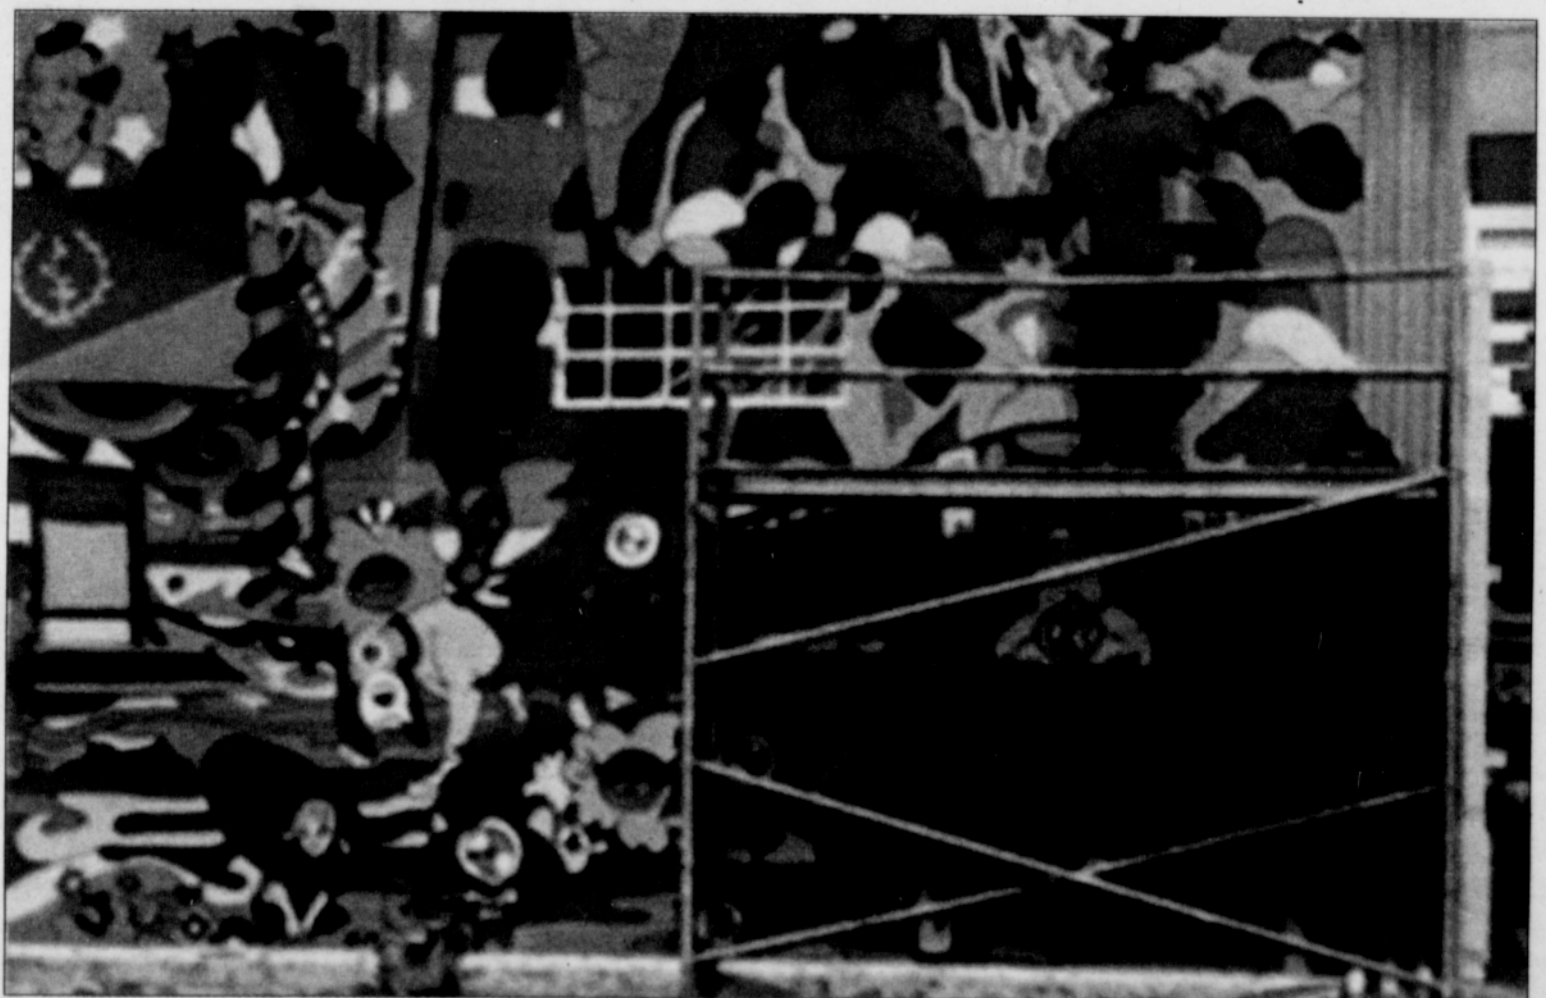

The large scale mural projects, supported with grants from the Regional Arts & Culture Council, have been completed in recent days or are underway.

The council's public art mural program, financed by the City of Portland, provided $27,400 for community murals that reflect diversity in style and media and encourages artists from diverse backgrounds. They will become part of the City's public art collection.

The recent additions include the south wall of a Union 76 gas station at 16150 S.E. Stark St. in the Rosewood Neighborhood. Artist
