Named Great Public Space

The American Planning Association last week designated Gov. Tom McCall Waterfront Park as one of the country's great public spaces. The award exemplifies exceptional character and highlights the role planning and planners play in adding value to communities, including fostering economic growth and creating jobs. The 30-acre park along the west bank of the Willamette River is an integral part of Portland's downtown and the city's cultural, recreational and social life. "Waterfront Park is part of the fabric of the Rose City," said Portland Mayor Sam Adams. "Instead of the freeway that used to run through the space, we have a lush, green gathering place for all, one we are happy to call a great public space."

Carving a Place in Jazz History

PDX Jazz is bringing the Matthew Shipp Trio to Portland as part of its PDX Jazz @ Jimmy Mak's series.

Shipp will be making his first Portland area appearance in nearly 20 years. Two shows are scheduled on Monday, Oct. 15, at 8 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. Drummer Whit Dickey and bassist Michael Bisio round out the trio.

A pianist, solo performer and band leader, Shipp has been carving out a place in the jazz legacy since the mid-80s. He has recorded on more than 30 albums and was a noted sideman in Roscoe Mitchell's Note Factory, and the David S. Ware Quartet, one of the greatest quartets of modern jazz.

Matthew Shipp will make his first Portland appearance in 20 years on Monday, Oct. 15 at Jimmy Mak's, downtown.

PORTLAND PLAYHOUSE ROCK THE VOTE

Portland Playhouse in collaboration with King Neighborhood Association with the help of Rock the Vote

Presents
VOTE! ROCK! BLEED!

A ROCK THE VOTE EVENT in North Portland to register voters and ROCK OUT.

The last Rock The Vote event held in Portland was in 2004, it is time to Rock Portland again!

Rock the Vote's mission is to engage and build political power for young people in our country. Rock the Vote has registered more than five million young people to vote and has become a trusted source of information for young people about registering to vote and casting a ballot. They use music, popular culture, new technologies and grassroots organizing to motivate and mobilize young people in our country to participate in every election, with the goal of seizing the power of the youth vote to create political and social change.

The Portland Playhouse in collaboration with the King Neighborhood Association along with the support of Rock the Vote presents an afternoon of music, theatrical politics, and community building to encourage our neighborhood to exercise their right to vote.

Join us for a ticketed portion of the event with Portland Playhouse's first production of their Fifth Season: Bloody Bloody Andrew Jackson the emo rock musical. American History just got all sexy pants. Book by Alex Timbers. It's the boldest, brashiest take on American political history—ever, and it is guaranteed to both titillate and educate. The musical asks us: What Does It Mean To Be A Democracy?

Tickets on sale now: www.portlandplayhouse.org

OR Join us for a FREE portion of the event starting at 3:30pm with live music from Land Between The Lakes and other local bands!

Magic of Unscripted Theatre

Enter Swinemump's, a local public school for wizards and witches, where magically gifted students must learn their lessons before lurking evils teach them first.

In this entirely improvised Harry Potteresque show, School of Sorcery, performed by Portland's unscripted theatre company, audiences embark on a mystical journey of spells, potions, and incantations.

School of Sorcery performances start at 8 p.m. on Saturdays Oct. 13, 20, 27 and Nov. 3, 10, 17, 24.

All shows are "pay as you want" and take place at the Funhouse Lounge, 2432 SE 11th Ave.

Artistic director and Unscriptables actor Trenton Shine and actress Landy Hite learn to cast spells in the entirely improvised performance, School of Sorcery, to run on Saturdays at 8 p.m. throughout October and November at the Funhouse Lounge, 2432 S.E. 11th Ave.
