St. Johns Parade Saturday

A North Portland favorite since 1962 returns with the annual St. Johns Parade, Saturday, May 11.

The 2013 parade, with a vintage family fun theme, begins promptly at noon.

Floats, drill teams and horses make vintage family fun at the St. Johns Parade. The annual event returns Saturday, May 11 at noon.

The St. Johns Bizarre, held in conjunction with the parade, opens from 10 a.m. to 7 p.m., kicking off Portland's street fair season with performances by an eclectic lineup of local bands, dozens of craft vendors and artists, and a beer garden featuring only locally-brewed suds.

Fats Domino's Piano Restored

(AP) — A white Steinway grand piano salvaged from musician Fats Domino's home after Hurricane Katrina has been restored and will be the centerpiece of an exhibit in New Orleans' French Quarter.

The piano was damaged after water poured through a broken levee during the August 2005 storm, flooding Domino's home in the Lower 9th Ward.

Its restoration came through $30,000 donated to the Louisiana Museum Foundation.

The largest gift of $18,000

came from Allan Slaight, a retired music producer in Miami. Other donations came from Sir Paul McCartney, the Rock & Roll Hall of Fame and the Tipitina's Foundation.

A second Steinway piano belonging to Domino is on permanent display at the Presbytere museum in the exhibition "Living with Hurricanes: Katrina and Beyond."

Born in New Orleans in 1928, the pianist, singer and songwriter is a living legend for his pop, rhythm and blues hits.
