

OHSU employees send out a message of being "diverse in people and ideas."

Good in the Hood Celebrating inner north and northeast

PHOTOS BY MARK WASHINGTON/
THE PORTLAND OBSERVE

Drumline 2013 Division Champions show off their skills in Saturday's Good in the Hood parade on Northeast Martin Luther King Jr. Blvd.

The congregation from New Hope Missionary Baptist Church march proudly in Saturday's parade.

The Week in Review

Father and Son Hit Jackpot

A father and son duo from Oregon City managed to match all six numbers to the June 24 Megabucks drawing. As a result they won the $16.3 million jackpot; both have chosen to receive annual annuity payments rather than a lump sum.

19 Firefighters Killed

In a blaze that has scorched over 8,400 acres of land in Arizona, 19 firefighters were killed on Monday. All 19 were found in last ditch survival shelters designed to protect themselves from the flames. The deaths are currently under investigation.

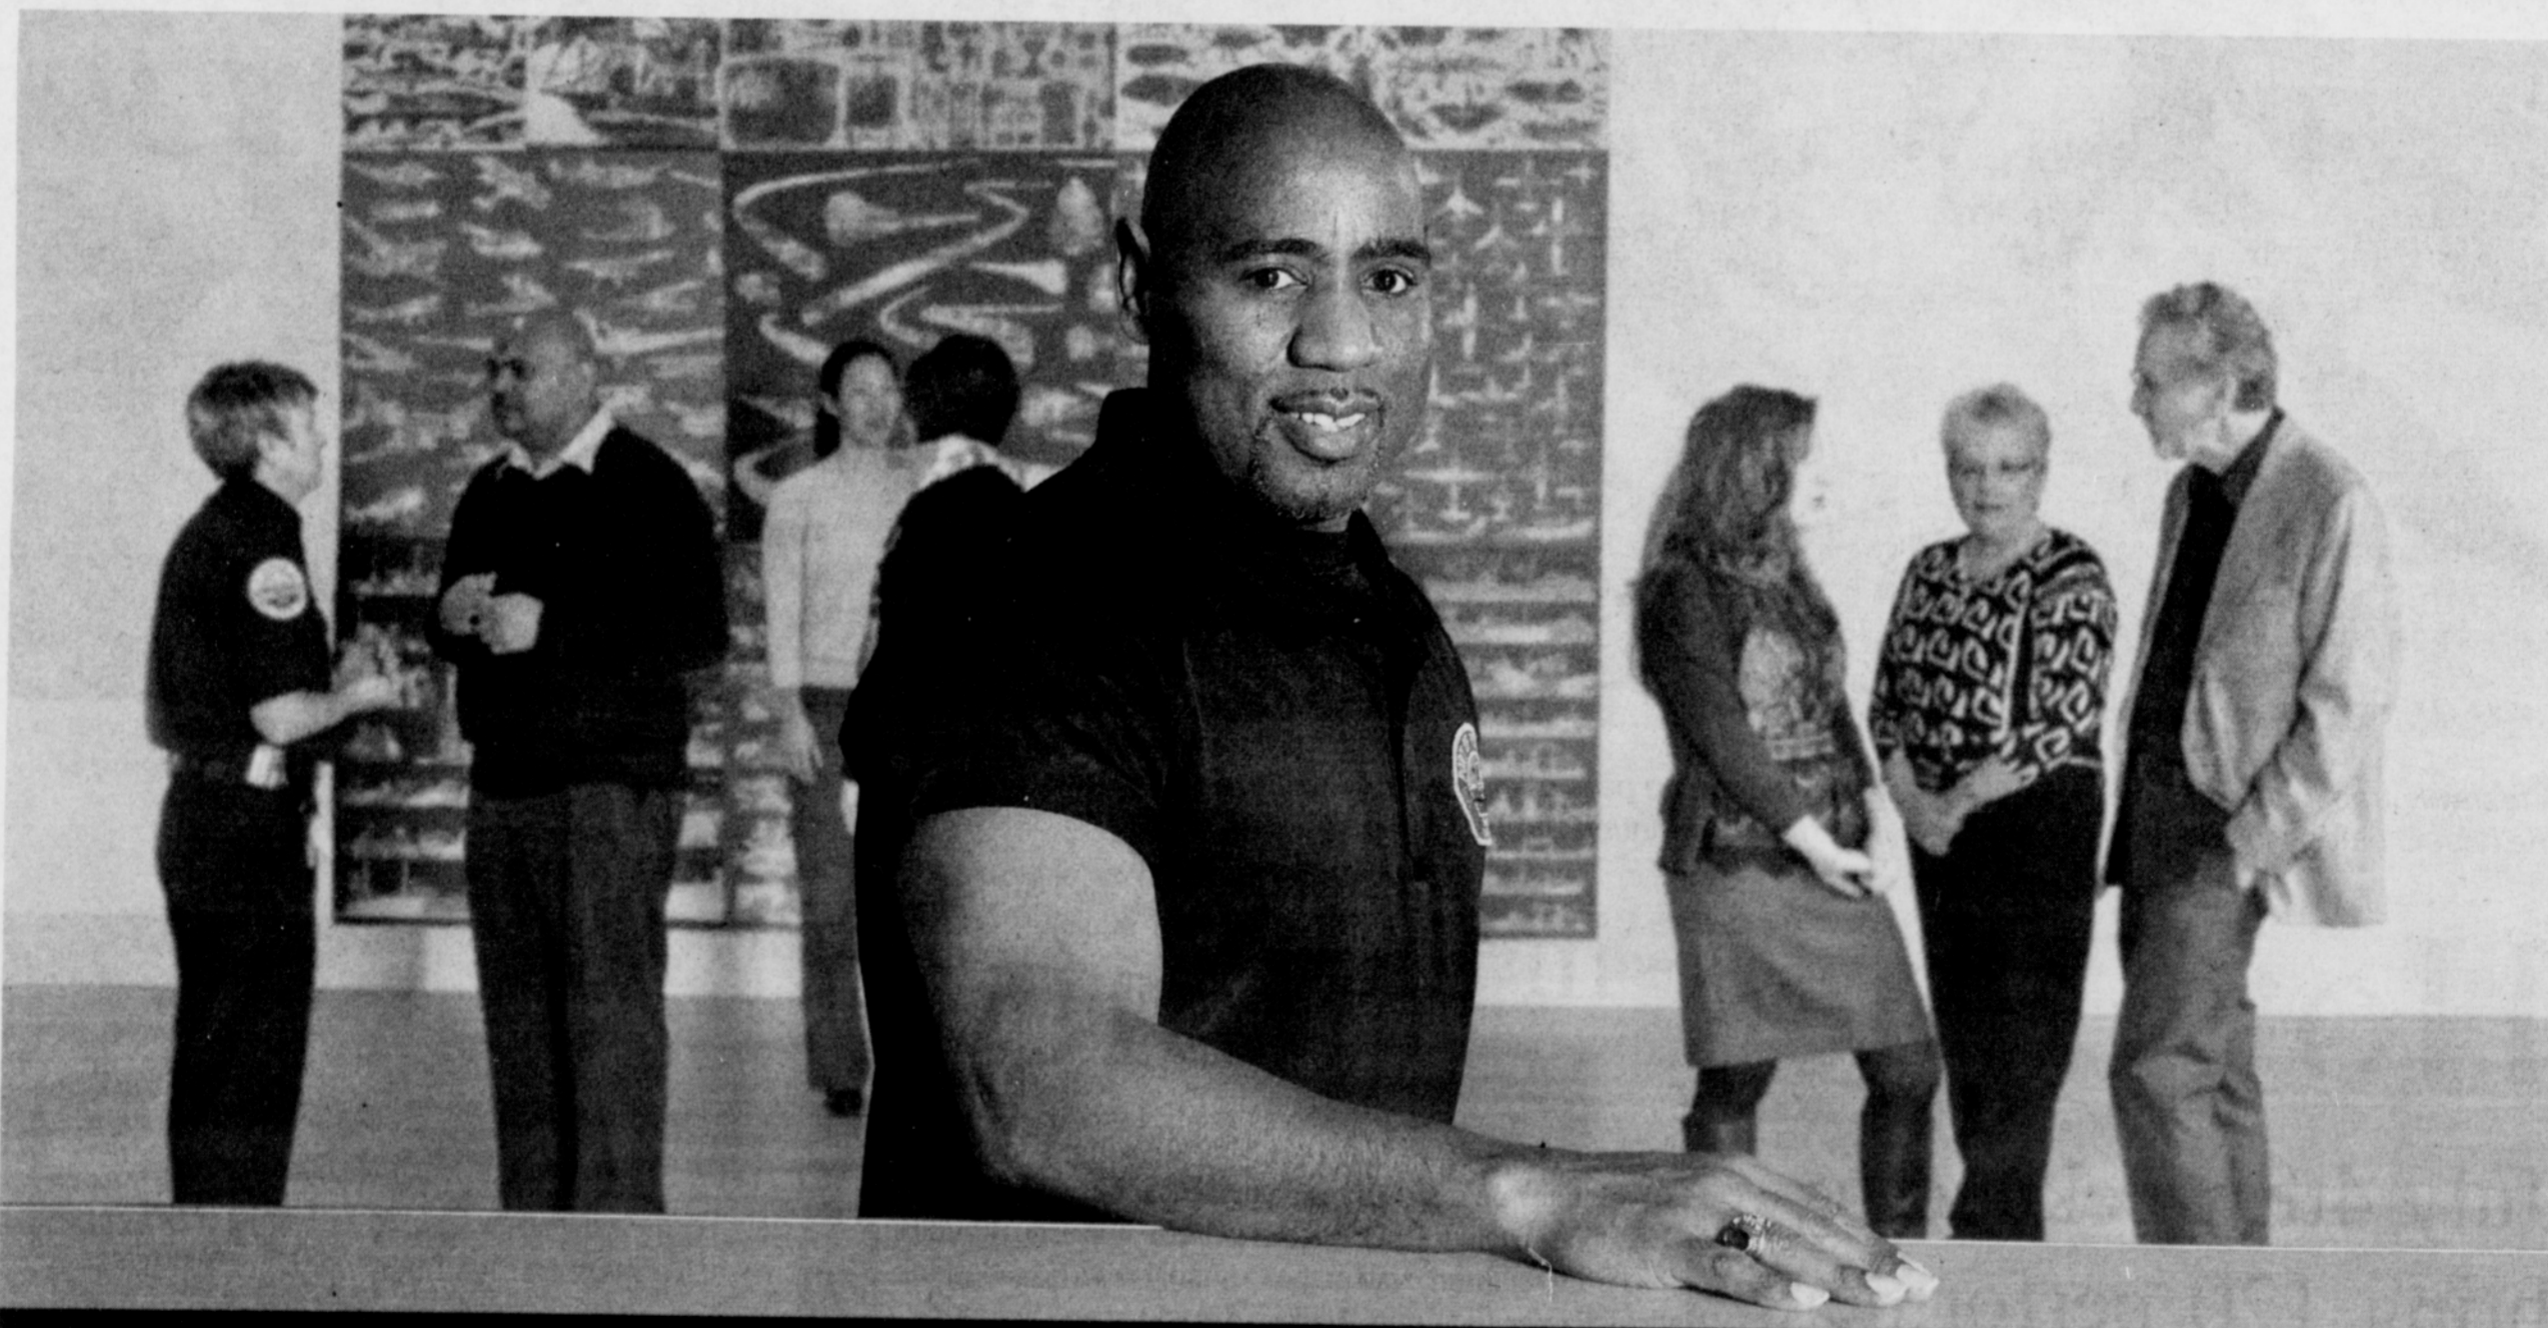

Freak Accident at Cirque du Soleil

A performer was killed Saturday during a Cirque du Soleil show in Las Vegas. The 31-year-old identified as Sarah Guillot-Guyard was being hoisted up 50 feet in the air then suddenly plummeted. The show has been cancelled indefinitely.

Martial Arts Legend Passes

At the age of 67, martial arts film legend Jim Kelly succumbed to cancer at his San Diego home on Monday. Kelly rose to prominence after being featured in the Bruce Lee classic, Enter the Dragon.

My new beginning. My possibility.

At the Port of Portland we celebrate the wisdom of collaboration and the strength in diversity. Scan the code at left for job opportunities or visit www.portofportland.com.

PORT OF PORTLAND
Possibility. In every direction.