focus on projects that support United Way's goal of breaking the cycle of childhood poverty in our region. Together, volunteers are expected to generate $75,387 in value for the community from 3,900 hours of volunteer service.

Thomajan, president and CEO of United Way of the Columbia-Willamette said. "We're excited to honor Dr. King and offer a way for each and every one of us to answer that question through volunteer service. Together, we can build a stronger community."

This is the seventh year United Way of the Columbia-Willamette has hosted the MLK Weekend of Service. The event is organized by Hands On Greater Portland, United Way's volunteer program. The Boeing Company is the pre-

Projects are currently open for sign up at unitedway-pdx.org/mlk. Individuals can sign up on their own, and friends, families and companies can also organize teams. People who sign up a four-person team are eligible to win an iPad Mini.
