Celebrate the Chinese New Year during 15 days of activities and performances at the Lan Su Chinese Garden, downtown.

Chinese New Year Celebration

The Chinese New Year and the Lunar Year of the Horse celebration starts Friday, Jan. 31 at the Lan Su Chinese Garden, downtown.

Chinese New Year is one of the most important celebrations in China and is incredibly popular throughout Asia.

Portland's Chinese Garden has a full 15 days of activities planned, including lion dances, a live miniature horse exhibition, storytelling, ping pong, martial arts demonstrations, tai chi, and talks on feng shui, Chinese New Year foods and traditional plants of the New Year.

The celebration culminates with three nights of lantern viewings (requiring a special ticket) where 250 hanging lanterns and 200 floating lanterns will illuminate the garden and showcase a lion dance and dragon procession.
