Daver Morrison as Othello and Nikki Coble as Desdemona in "Othello" at Portland Center Stage.

Love, Jealousy, Betrayal and Regret

Daver Morrison makes his debut as Othello

Shakespeare's tragic tale of the esteemed general destroyed by jealousy and betrayal begins with previews on Saturday, April 5 and opens on Thursday, April 11 at Portland Center Stage.

Starring Daver Morrison in his PCS debut and directed by Chris Coleman, Othello will run through May 11 on the Main Stage.

Free events surrounding the production include a presentation of PCS's new, all ages touring program, All's Fair in Love and Shakespeare, at Director Park on April 11 at noon, along with a "Shop Talk" discussion with members of the creative team on Tuesday, April 15 at 6:30 p.m.

Othello is the first production to kick off The Complete Works Project, a collaboration of Portland's cultural institutions to produce all of Shakespeare's works in a two year period.

In Othello, a highly esteemed general serving the state of Venice secretly marries Desdemona, the daughter of a senator. As their marriage is revealed, jealousies around their love match and Othello's rise to prominence are unleashed, marking destructive rifts in a tale that piles secret upon secret, and betrayal upon betrayal.

"Othello's journey is a symphony of all the nuances of torture that jealousy invokes," says director Chris

Coleman. "The plot is so focused, like a heat-seeking missile racing towards its target. The language is clean and direct, like a screenplay." Set in Venice and Cyprus in the early 1600s, this classically staged production features stunning period costumes and a two-story, castle-like set that will revolve on stage as the plot twists in this tragic love story.

Regular tickets start at $38. Tickets can be purchased at pcs.org or by calling 503-445-3700.
