Maya Culture in Vibrant Colors

A Maya indigenous artist from Guatemala who captures the vibrant colors and cultural relevance of the Maya civilization is coming to Portland for public exhibits of his work.

Pedro Cruz Sunu will be showing his paintings with Maya women weaving, Maya traditional events, and landscapes of his pueblo near Lake Atitlan.

Two exhibitions will take place. He will be presenting in the Community Room at Cherry Wood Village, a retirement community located at 1417 S.E. 107th Ave., during the Memorial Day weekend of May 24-26.

The following weekend, May 29-31, the paintings will be featured in the Zócalo at the Teatro Milagro [Miracle Theatre] located at 525 S.E. Stark. The art show will be opened before the play "Learn to be Latina" and also during intermission.

The paintings can be viewed for free at Milagro from 6 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Thursday May 29; and 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. on both Friday and Saturday, May 30-31.

Dairyville Family Fun Sundays

Alpenrose Dairy is ready once again to welcome families to Dairyville, a Western-themed "town" located right on the 52-acre dairy farm.

A Portland tradition for over 50 years, kids and adults flock to the streets of Dairyville during the summer months to explore this fun pioneer exhibit. Visitors can peak into the Confectionery, the Great Western Bank, the Dairyville School, and the post office. Kids can watch model trains chug through tiny and open every Sunday afternoon beginning June 1 through Aug. 31 from 1-4 p.m.

Bring the entire family to Dairyville at Alpenrose Dairy, located at 6149 S.W. Shattuck Rd., off the Beaverton Hillsdale Highway.

Dairyville is free to the public

Rescued Sea Otter Settles In

Juno, a 4-month-old sea otter pup rescued in California earlier this year and not suitable for release into the wild, arrived at the Oregon Zoo last week. She will join the zoo's two geriatric sea otters, Thelma and Eddie, in their Steller Cove habitat this summer.
