Runners of all cultures and ages take off for the third annual Martin Luther King Jr. Dream Run in northeast Portland. The North/Northeast Business Association event celebrated the Soul of Portland and the city's commitment of economic equity for all.

Celebrating the Soul of Portland

MLK Dream Run makes economic and equitable impact

Over 1,500 participants came out to celebrate in the Soul of Portland at the third annual Martin Luther King Jr. Dream Run and festivities.

Organized by the North/Northeast

Business Association, the Aug. 2-3 event featured 5, 10 & 15K runs through the charming and historic retail, residential and park scapes of the Soul of Portland District, an opening ceremony, free concert, white dove release, food and crowds of sponsors and members of the community.

Portland Mayor Charlie Hales and First Lady Nancy Hales, Multnomah

County Commissioner Loretta Smith, Portland City Commissioner Amanda Fritz and other government leaders made appearances at the festivities, demonstrating good faith towards Portland's
