With the water heated up a bit and a movie screen pool side, participants enjoy a 'dive-in movie' at Wilson Pool in southwest Portland.

Dive In for 'Lego' Movie

Portland Parks & Recreation presents one of the biggest splashes of the summer with five different showings of "The Lego Movie" at city pools around town.

The special events are set up so you can watch the movie from the pool deck or in the pool itself. The pools are even heated up a little bit more than normal to maintain a comfort level for people in the water.

Screenings are scheduled Wednesday, Aug. 20 at Montavilla Pool; Thursday, Aug. 21 at Creston Pool; Friday, Aug. 22 at Wilson Pool, Saturday, Aug. 23 at Sellwood Pool and Sunday, Aug. 24 at Grant Pool.

Movie showings begin at approximately 8 p.m. (when the sun goes down). Cost is $5 for adults and $3.50 for kids, except the Wilson Pool where the youth fee is $4.

Worth or Worthless?

'Antiques Roadshow'-style event Sunday

Have you ever wondered if you had a hidden treasure buried in your closet? Find out at the Oregon Historical Society's first "What's It Worth?" event on Sunday, Aug. 24, where local specialists will provide "Antiques Roadshow"-style evaluations of your collectibles.

Items that can be evaluated include American Indian art and artifacts, autographs, coins, comic books and rare books, fine art, jewelry, political buttons, pottery, toys, vintage and antique clothing, and other collectibles. No firearms or weapons will be permitted.

Evaluations are $10 plus regular OHS museum admission, and each person is limited to five items. Evaluations will be provided by local professionals who have volunteered their time to support this event. All proceeds raised support the mission of the Oregon Historical Society. The event runs from noon - 4 p.m. at the Oregon Historical Society, 1200 S.W. Park Ave., and evaluations are given on a first come, first served basis.
