

QR code for Portland Observer
Online

The PO

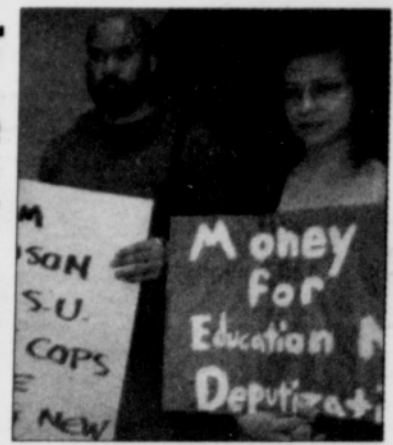

Hip Hop Renaissance

St. Johns rapper
refines his craft
see Metro, page 9

Vote for Armed Police

PSU approves plan pending guidelines
see page 3

The Portland Observer 44

'City of Roses'

Volume XLIV
Number 50

www.portlandobserver.com
Wednesday • December 17, 2014

Established in 1970
Committed to Cultural Diversity

44 years of community service

PHOTO BY OLIVIA OLIVIA/THE PORTLAND OBSERVER

Harry Jackson (from left), Bill Jackson, and Marci Jackson, all family relatives to one of the teenage victims from last Friday's shooting outside Rosemary Anderson High School, visit the north Portland school Monday to support the students. The community-based alternative school is part of the Portland Opportunities Industrialization Center.

Helping Students Feel Safe

Recovery begins after traumatic shooting

BY OLIVIA OLIVIA
THE PORTLAND OBSERVER

Dozens of tiny white snowflake earrings hung to the ears and jackets of students at Rosemary Anderson High School Monday, a symbol of solidarity in the wake of a shooting on Friday just outside the school that wounded four teenagers.

The alternative school, part of the Portland Opportunities Industrialization Center in north Portland, handed out the snowflakes to community members, faculty, staff, and students alike as police, community leaders and others reached out to make the students feel safe.

The supporters included three members of the same African-American family, relatives of one of the teenagers injured in the shooting, David Jackson-Lyday, 20.

His grandfather, Bill Jackson, walked the campus along with Jackson's sister Portland Police Officer

continued ▼ on page 4