John Legend

Idina Menzel

Super Talent for Super Bowl

"Frozen" star Idina Menzel will sing the National Anthem and John Legend will perform "America the Beautiful before the Super Bowl kicks off on Feb. 1 in Glendale, Ariz., the NFL announced. The entertainment and championship game will air on NBC.

Menzel has had a top-notch year, thanks to the success of "Frozen" and her worldwide hit, "Let It Go." Her Broadway show "If/Then" closes on March 22.

Legend, too, has had a career-highlighting year. His song "All of Me" was one of 2014's biggest hits, and he recently won a Golden Globe for his song with rapper Common, "Glory," from the film "Selma."

Pop star Katy Perry will perform during the halftime show.

Late Night Catechism

Late Nite Catechism is such a funny play that even the most reluctant "students" will be clamoring to get into this Sister's class. Now in its 20th year, the show has brought its nostalgic kick to thousands who have laughed themselves to tears.

As you step into the international hit comedy by Vicki Quade and Maripat Donovan, the checkered linoleum and habit-clad nun of a thought-forgot Catholic school day past rush back to greet you.

"It speaks," says The New York Times, "to an audience much broader than the membership of any one church," making Late Nite Catechism and the laughter it never fails to elicit accessible to all.

Shows at the Winningstand Theatre, 1111 S.W. Broadway, Thursday through Saturday, Jan. 28-31.

Maripat Donovan stars as a beloved nun in the comedy 'Late Nite Catechism,' playing Thursday through Saturday, Jan. 29-31, at the Winningstand Theatre, downtown.
