

Family Looks for Answers

Woodlawn Park vigil planned for shooting victim

The family of a young Seattle man who was shot in northeast Portland is coming to Portland to hold a vigil at the same park where he died. The body of 24-year-old D'Andre Dickerson was found by paramedics in Woodlawn Park on April 13 after witnesses reported hearing shots fired.

Police say they still have no suspects, and the Dickerson's family is still looking for answers. There will be a meeting with the family facilitated by Antoinette Edwards, the mayor's director of the Office of Youth Violence Prevention, and the Community Peace Collaborative, on Wednesday, May 6 at 1 p.m. at Life Change Church, 3635 N. Williams Ave.

The purpose is to introduce the Seattle contingency to Portland's network of service providers and other organizations that support victims and families of youth violence. At 2:30 p.m. the same day, Dickerson's family will hold a press conference at the church, and then at 6 p.m., family and community organizers will host a vigil and rally open to the public at Woodlawn Park, located at the corner of Northeast 13th Avenue and Dekum Street.

D'Andre Dickerson

The family also released a statement, acknowledging D'Andre Dickerson's life and the family members he leaves behind, including his mother and father, saying, "If you saw something, say something."

The Week in Review

Roosevelt Remodel Begins

Portland Public Schools broke ground Saturday on the $96 million Roosevelt High modernization project. When construction is completed in the fall of 2016, Roosevelt students will have access to a new auditorium, new gym and new library/media center.

Gun Sale Rules Approved

An Oregon bill expanding background checks to encompass nearly all gun sales in the state made it through the Legislature Monday. The measure now heads to Democratic Gov. Kate Brown, who has indicated she will sign the law.

Right to Dream Move

The City of Portland announced last week that it is negotiating to purchase a plot of land in the Central eastside near OMSI that could become the new home for the Right to Dream 2 rest area, a project that would allow more houseless Portlanders a safe and legal place to sleep while they are transient.

Woman Dies in Columbia

A 49-year-old woman, Cynthia Marie Boone, died when her truck veered into the Columbia River Monday. Investigators are still trying to discover if this was a suicide or an accident.

Ban the Box Support

The Oregon House passed Ban the Box legislation on Wednesday, sending the bill over the Oregon Senate for approval. The legislation would prohibit employers from including questions about applicants' criminal history on job applications.

Former PSU Student is Crown Prince

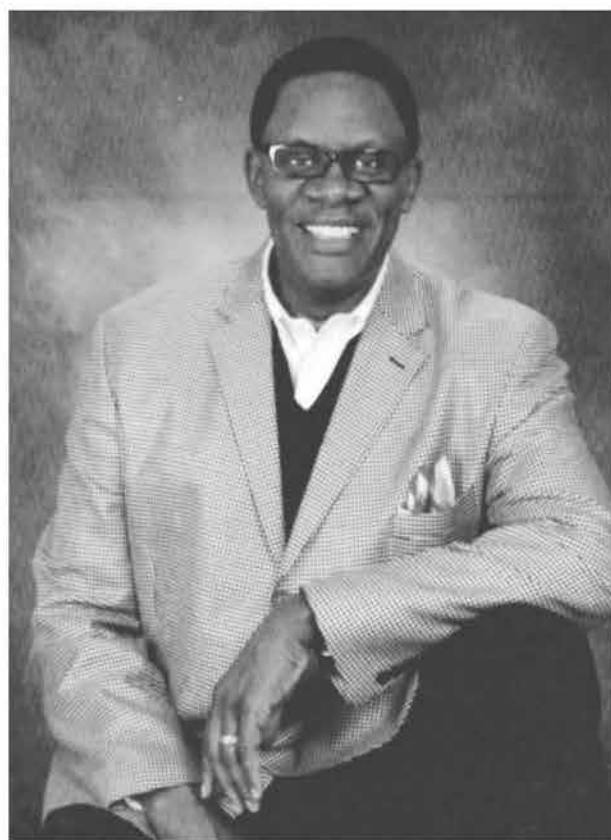

A Saudi Arabian royal who attended Portland State University from 1977 to 1980 has been named crown prince, making him the most likely person to be the next king of Saudi Arabia. Mohammed bin Nayef, 55, was named crown prince by his uncle, King Salman.

Man Dies in Waterfall

On Monday Skamania County authorities recovered the body of a 39-year-old Portland man who died Sunday after plunging over a waterfall in Washington. The man has since been identified as Shawn W. Kenline.

Advertise with diversity in The Portland Observer
Call 503-288-0033 or email ads@portlandobserver.com

Dr. Billy R. Flowers

THE SPINA COLUMN™

An ongoing series of questions and answers about America's natural healing profession.

Part 8. CONSTIPATION:

The backing up of body's sewage system.

Q: Nothing has ever really helped my constipation. What can Chiropractic possibly do?

A: As a natural form of healing, there is much a Chiropractic and the improved lifestyle we recommend can do to remove the immediate distress and long term health hazards of constipation. But before we begin, you should understand that constipation takes two approaches. The first is the tight, sometimes painful feeling in the lower back area. The second and more insidious type is what we call "hidden constipation." This is when we seemingly move our bowels regularly, but never completely eliminate everything in our colon (large intestine). This causes the colon to back up and spread toxic poisons throughout the body. This can lead to everything from sinusitis to allergies to arthritis. Chiropractic can help to alleviate this problem by gently turning nerves back on in the colon and small intestine. It is not uncommon for a patient to have two, three or even four bowel movements after the first adjustments on his or her spine. A man with FBSS (failed back surgical syndrome) went home and had 12 bowel movements that night. And he claimed he wasn't even constipated! Whatever questions you might have about health and healing, you'll find that Chiropractic is often the answer. Call us for an appointment today.

Flowers' Chiropractic Office

2124 NE Hancock, Portland Oregon 97212 • Phone: (503) 287-5504

The Portland Observer

Established 1970

USPS 959 680

4747 NE Martin Luther King, Jr. Blvd., Portland, OR 97211

PUBLISHER: Mark Washington, Sr.

EDITOR: Michael Leighton

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR: Rakeem Washington

Office Manager/Classifieds: Lucinda Baldwin

CREATIVE DIRECTOR: Paul Neufeldt

ADVERTISING MANAGER: Leonard Latin

REPORTER/PHOTOGRAPHER: Olivia Olivia

The Portland Observer welcomes freelance submissions. Manuscripts and photographs should be clearly labeled and will be returned if accompanied by a self addressed envelope. All created design display ads become the sole property of the newspaper and cannot be used in other publications or personal usage without the written consent of the general manager, unless the client has purchased the composition of such ad. © 2008 THE PORTLAND OBSERVER. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED, REPRODUCTION IN WHOLE OR IN PART WITHOUT PERMISSION IS PROHIBITED. The Portland Observer--Oregon's Oldest Multicultural Publication--is a member of the National Newspaper Association--Founded in 1885, and The National Advertising Representative Amalgamated Publishers, Inc, New York, NY, and The West Coast Black Publishers Association

CALL 503-288-0033 FAX 503-288-0015

news@portlandobserver.com ads@portlandobserver.com subscription@portlandobserver.com

Postmaster: Send address changes to Portland Observer, PO Box 3137, Portland, OR 97208