

GOOD IN THE HOOD

PHOTOS BY MARK WASHINGTON/THE PORTLAND OBSERVER

Celebrating local neighborhoods

Diversity of Oregon Health and Science University is celebrated as representatives of the medical center march along Northeast Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard for the 2015 Good in the Hood Parade.

Marchers promote the Albina Ministerial Alliance's Clinical Health Workers of Faith and the annual Wellness Fair at this year's Good in the Hood parade.

The Seattle-based Washington Diamonds drill team marches in Saturday's Good in the Hood Parade.

Multnomah County Animal Services celebrate Pitties in Pink, adorable pitbulls dressed in tutus and pastels to show their docile and loving spirits as adoptable pets.

The upcoming MLK Dream gets front billing from participants of the annual race promoting the Soul District of northeast Portland.