

SCOOP of HEAVEN

PHOTO BY MARK WASHINGTON/
THE PORTLAND OBSERVER

Ice cream shop brings year-round cool

A small ice cream shop is bringing year-round cool to a corner of northeast Portland. Patricia A. Trice and her husband Fred have been running A Scoop of Heaven since 2007 from their shop in the corner behind the U.S. Bank on Northeast Killingsworth and Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard.

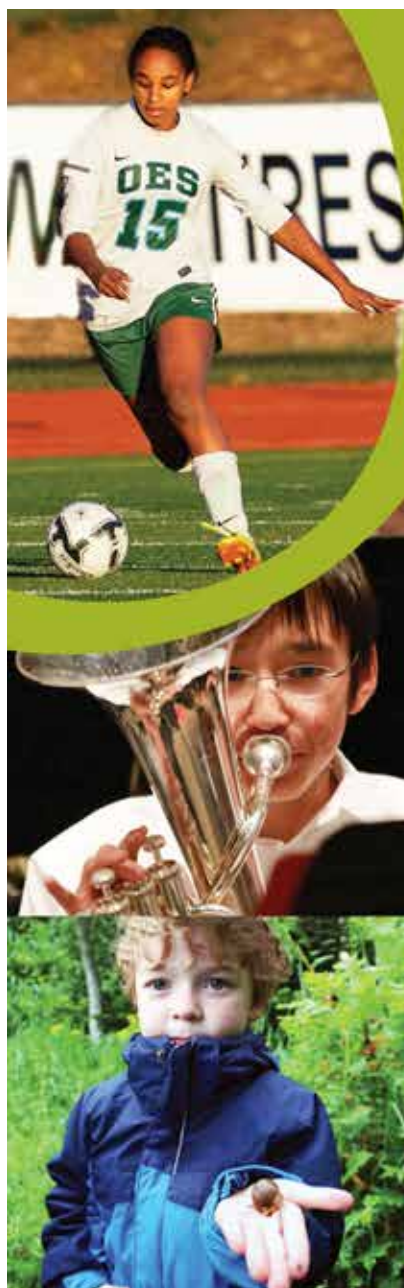

“God gave me a vision, not once but three times of an ice cream shop as a future business,” says Trice. “I shared the vision with my husband and we both prayed about it and waited on God.”

A spell of good luck and help from the community also guided her and her husband to making their dream a reality. The shop, which was originally called Nana’s Ice Cream Shop, went through a series of hurdles with the City of Port-

Patricia A. Trice and her husband, Fred Trice Jr., bring A Scoop of Heaven to ice cream lovers from their shop in the corner behind the U.S. Bank on Northeast Killingsworth and Martin Luther King Jr. Boulevard.

CONTINUED ON PAGE 11

OPEN House

MIND OPENING SINCE 1869

Grades Pre-Kindergarten to 5 (parents)
Wednesday, Oct 14, 2015 from 6:00 – 8:00pm

Grades 6 to 12 (parents and students)
Sunday, Oct 25, 2015 from 1:00 – 4:00pm

Our Pre-K to 12 day and boarding programs give future global leaders the skills and confidence to succeed in an ever-changing world.

Pre-register and view Open House schedule and details at www.oes.edu/admissions.

Financial Aid: need-based award program available.

Oregon Episcopal School

6300 SW Nicol Road • Portland, OR 97223
(503) 768-3115

www.oes.edu