Symposium on Hate

Confronting Extremism: The State of Hate Today will be the subject of a fall symposium to reflect on the challenges posed by racism, extremism, hate groups and hate speech in our community.

Nadav Eyal, an acclaimed journalist and director of HATE, a documentary covering rising anti-Semitism in Europe filmed on location in Germany, England, and Greece will be the guest speaker.

Panelists include Jo Ann Hardesty, president of NAACP Portland Branch; Kayse Jama, founder and executive director at the Center for Intercultural Organizing; Erious Johnson Jr., civil rights director, Oregon Department of Justice; and several others.

Sponsored by the Oregon Jewish Museum and Center for Holocaust Education, the Sunday, Nov. 8 event will be held at 1 p.m. at Hoffman Hall on the Portland State University campus, downtown. Admission for the general public is $20, and $8 for educators and students with I.D.

Portland's traditional Ross Hollywood Chapel Veterans Day Parade is held each year along Northeast 40th Avenue and Sandy Boulevard. The annual event returns Wednesday, Nov. 11 starting at 9:45 a.m.

Events Salute Our Local Veterans

You're invited to celebrate veterans in Vancouver and Portland thanks to local organizations who have made a point to honor them in observance of Veterans Day.

On Saturday, Nov. 7 the Fort Vancouver National Trust will host their 29th annual parade at Fort Vancouver. The parade begins at 11 a.m., rain or shine. The ceremony preceding the parade will begin at 10 a.m. on the Marshall House lawn, and will feature keynote speaker Colonel Paul Fitzgerald, commander of the 142nd Fighter Wing of the Oregon Air National Guard, and honor Parade Grand Marshal Pat Jollota.

On Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 12 noon, Clark College invites the community to join them on the South Lawn of their Vancouver campus to form a patriotic shield and capture an aerial drone photo-

And on Wednesday, Nov. 11, the official date for Veterans Day, northeast Portland will host a Veterans Day Parade at 9:45 a.m. The parade assembles on Northeast 40th and Tillamook and proceeds along 40th turning east onto Sandy Boulevard and concluding at the flag pole in front of Ross Hollywood Chapel at 48th and Sandy.
